can, Idaho, to lead a dry third party. He says Mr. Hoover deserted the dry.

Dr. Edwin C. Dinwiddie, secretary of the strategy board and superintendent of the National Temperance bureau, is for Mr. Hoover. Dinwiddie and Wilson are veterans. The former was Anti-Saloon League legislative superintendent before the late Wayne B. Wheeler brought to that job a card index system which set down all statesmen as "wet" or "dry" without qualification and persuaded prohibitionists throughout the United States to vote accordingly. Dinwiddie explained to the United Press that he supported Mr. Hoover in his capacity as head of the Temperance Bureau.

Carter On Congress
At league and board headquarters the United Press was informed dry efforts probably would be centered on congressional campaigns.

"No one can tell what the board will do," Dinwiddie said. "There are differences of opinion. We haven't reached any decision whether we will be for or against any candidate."

"Individual organizations in the various groups will likely go into the congressional districts and not engage in the presidential campaign. But this expression of my opinion does not forestall in any way any action the board may take."

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, educational superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, is chairman of the strategy board.

F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league, will preside at the executive committee meeting of that organization.

STRIKING MINERS CALL OUT WORKERS

COAL CITY, Ill., Sept. 7.—(UP) Four hundred striking miners from Central Illinois invaded the Grundy county coal fields today and ordered 200 men to quit work at the Wilmington mine. The men left the pits immediately and called a meeting to decide whether they would join the strike for higher wages.

HINT AT "DARK PAST" IN LIFE OF HARLOW'S MATE

ways was kind and considerate to Jean."

Deny Suicide Attempt
Bello also denied that Miss Harlow had attempted suicide by leaping from an upper floor balcony of his home, where at present she is in a state of collapse from the tragedy.

The step-father described the incident as "a frenzied attempt on the part of Jean to reach her husband."

He explained that after John Carmichael, Bern's butler, found the body of his master on Monday morning, Miss Harlow was taken from a stage at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. She was ignorant of Bern's death until she reached the Bello home.

"Louis B. Mayer, head of M. G. M., broke the news to her," Bello said. "Her first inclination was to go to Paul. She arose from her bed in hysteria and rushed toward the first exit she saw. That happened to be the window leading toward the balcony. She was caught and finally quieted only after great difficulty."

Denies Second Note
Bello took occasion to deny the Sub-Rosa police theory of a second and more enlightening suicide note by Bern. He said he believed the only one in existence was the brief farewell message to Miss Harlow in which Bern spoke of his "abject humiliation" and the "comedy of the night before."

He said he was against any efforts to cover up angles of the case. "Jean belongs to the public and the public has the right to know all about it," Bello said. "Jean has nothing to fear."

He said that Miss Harlow's condition was so poor at present that he was certain she will not be able to appear as a witness tomorrow at an inquest called by the county coroner.

The star was in such a precarious state of health today that relatives declared their intention to resist any further attempt by police to seek from the actress intimate details of the suicide of her middle-aged husband.

"Jean spent a terrible night," Jetta Chadey, her aunt, told newspapermen at the home of Marino Bello, Miss Harlow's step-father, "it would be criminal if detectives tried to question her again."

The aunt, despite persistent under-current reports around police headquarters, denied that a second suicide note was found in the hillside home where Bern's body, a bullet wound in the head, was found by a butler last Monday.

Cryptic Statement
"There is nothing in this case Jean need be ashamed of," Mrs. Chadey said, "you know that some people will go to extremes to protect a dead person."

Mrs. Chadey refused to give details of a reported attempt by the hysterical film star to hurl herself from an upper floor balcony of the Bello home as detectives, and a crowd of sight seekers millied in the terraces and streets surrounding the residence.

The aunt, however, gave a requested explanation of the suicide note which referred to Bern's "abject humiliation" and the "comedy of last night," by declaring that one of year old Bern produced and his silver-haired wife of two months had been very happy in their honeymoon house in the hills.

Mrs. Chadey disclosed that she was a visitor at the home of Bern for several days the week after the marriage.

"Jean told me I have found peace and happiness at last," her aunt said. "She said to me, 'I'm so happy here that I do not care to go on a honeymoon.'"

Seek Note Explanation
Detective Lieutenants Frank Condaff and Frank Ryan, veterans of scores of sensational Hollywood investigations, attempted to press Miss Harlow for her version of the meaning of the suicide note in which Bern wrote of his "abject humiliation" and referred to "the terrible wrong" he had done her.

"I don't know, I don't know," the star moaned as tears streamed down her face. Her answer was the last when detectives asked her if she knew what her husband meant when he wrote of "the comedy of last night."

"I can't understand why this terrible thing should have happened to us," Miss Harlow cried. "As for the note left by Paul, I have no idea what it means. This 'terrible wrong' he apparently believed he had done me is all a mystery. I can't imagine what it means."

"There was nothing between us that I can think of that would have caused him to do this," Miss Harlow then retold her story of her last meeting with Bern. She said she stayed at her mother's home Saturday night because she had worked late at the studio. On Sunday, she said, she worked most of the day and then drove to the Benedict canyon home where she had lived with Bern since their marriage on July 2.

She and Bern talked about a dinner party to be held that night at Mrs. Bello's home and she left in her car for her mother's residence.

"Paul was to follow but he did not appear," she said. "I telephoned him and he begged off, saying he was tired. He told me to stay all night with my mother. That was the last time we ever spoke."

MEDICOS HEAR DISCUSSION OF TUBERCULOSIS

More than 50 members and guests of the Orange County Medical association met in Keiner's cafe here last night to hear Dr. F. M. Pottenger, president of the American College of Physicians, give an illustrated lecture on the subject, "Diagnosis of Tuberculosis."

The speaker showed X-ray pictures of patients before and after he had treated them for tuberculosis and gave an illuminating talk on his subject which was of great interest to the medical men present.

Dr. Elliott P. Smart of Oceanview, talked and showed pictures on tuberculosis cavities of the lungs and how the condition could be improved by modern treatment.

Dr. Merl L. Pendell, Los Angeles X-ray specialist, showed pictures of children afflicted with tuberculosis and told of treatment of children for the disease.

Dr. Carl Howson gave a brief address on the diagnosis and treatment of patients that spit up blood from their lungs.

HOLD INQUESTS IN THREE AUTO CRASH DEATHS

Verdicts of accidental deaths were returned in three inquests conducted by Coroner Earl Abbey and Deputy Bert Casteix yesterday afternoon and today.

An inquest was held at the Roy Divil parlors at San Clemente this morning over the body of Miss Marguerite Gillis, who died Sunday of injuries suffered on September 1, when she was hurt in an automobile crash.

Two inquests were held at the Laguna Beach funeral home yesterday afternoon. In the case of Clarence Pinker Skinner, 29, who died as the result of an accident on Coast boulevard near the Frank Miller place in Arch Beach, there was an open verdict of accidental death.

In the case of Fred W. Geisler, 25, chief boiler-maker on the U. S. S. Vestal, whose car plunged over a 100-foot embankment on Coast highway, near Coffeyshell Beach, the foggy condition of the weather was held responsible for the accident. There was a large attendance of navy men at the Geisler inquest and a stenographic report was taken by a yeoman.

An autopsy performed yesterday on the body of Fred J. Rae, who lost his life in the ocean west of Newport Beach Monday afternoon disclosed that death was due to drowning and not heart trouble as at first thought. The autopsy was performed at the Cheung parlors in Costa Mesa by Dr. Beattie Martell. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

WASHINGTON

BATTLE

The Farm Board is understood to have received orders to quit. Higher-ups are dissatisfied at the inside rows between it and the R. F. C. The understanding is the R. F. C. will take over its functions before long.

The dispute over cotton was the final straw. The Board refused an R. F. C. loan for $50,000,000 because it carried strings as to the disposal of cotton holdings immediately.

WALKER

Republicans here hailed the turn in the Jimmy Walker case with inward delight. They privately thought it was the best break they have had during the campaign.

There is an inside reason why Gov. Roosevelt will be unable to back Acting Mayor Joseph McKee successfully in Washington. The Tammany bosses took care of the Tammany convention. They made each man in their delegation vote publicly. McKee voted for Roosevelt and against Al Smith.

BRASS TACKS

The President is getting just a little peeved at the yes-men who call on him every day to hand him the old Dr. Coue line: "Every day our political situation is getting better and better."

Some callers who tried that recently have been subjected to cross-examination.

PRESSURE

You just cannot keep politics out of anything in Washington. Chairman Ford of the Home Loan encountered plenty of politics in distributing his 12 banks among 300 city applicants. Nearly every one was a political selection.

That same day he privately told the R. F. C. that Wilson McCarthy, Salt Lake democrat, was making democratic political honey out of selections in the Agricultural Credit system.

McCarthy's friends say he proved that only one appointment had been made up to then in the Agricultural Credit system. That one went to a Hoover republican. The investigation was dropped without getting into the newspapers.

FREE SPEECH

A lot of lesser governmental officials changed their minds suddenly about firing the young Gary, Indiana postal employee because he worked for the cash bonus.

That was because President Hoover called them personally on the telephone. The president got busy when he heard about the story. With this veterans storm breaking around him he did not want that added burden.

The postal employee was reinstated just before the head lobbyist of the American Legion walked into the White House to protest his dismissal.

There was no question as to the employee's violation of the postal regulations. A lenient interpretation was necessary for his reinstatement.

The regulations are so tight a civil service employee could be fired for endorsing or opposing cuts in his own salary, beer or white slavery. Any two men of the same political beliefs are considered a political party in specific terms.

There is no question but what the regulations go too far.

NOTES

The chief author of "The Merry-Go-Round" is looking for a job. He says his paper, the Baltimore Sun, notified him he was among the unemployed.

"Merry-Go-Round" came out. That makes two out of three. Another of the scandal slinging trio was given the air by the Christian Science Monitor after the first edition appeared.

The third author is still columning for the Washington Daily News, local Scripps-Howard newspaper. The head marksman claims War Secretary Hurley had him fired for what the book said about Mr. Hurley. Our silence on the German proposal for arms equality with France hides a good policy. If the time ever comes when we can speak on that subject we will favor reduction of French arms as well as all others.

SPONSORSHIP

Powerful sponsorship behind the stock market is prepared to stand any necessary gaff in maintaining stock prices for six weeks more. They are all set to wait at least that length of time for indications of improving business to make themselves felt. If business doesn't come across, it will be a question of deciding between the exigencies of the political situation and the possibility of incurring losses through continued market support.

STOCK MARKET

The speculative pot is still boiling busily but trading is being done on thin capital margins which makes keen observers wonder whether it may not boil over and put out the fire.

The United States seems to be the focal point for world speculation at present. Trading orders continue to come in from abroad in considerable volume.

There is no fear of a sudden collapse. The low volume of brokers' loans indicates an absence of the type of business which would be hastily closed out on a drop of a few points.

UP

Brokers are so much happier these days they are beginning to jape a bit. One broker recently called up a client and said: "Listen, Bill, I haven't put you into anything for over a year but I can put you into something now at 42 and you can get out today at 110." "Good stuff," said the client. "What is it?" "A Fifth Avenue bus."

MacNIDER

Sources close to the American Legion doubt whether Hanford MacNider will get far in his mission of bringing the veterans back to the Republican fold. MacNider is still popular with the Legionaires but has lost much of his influence since he stepped out as national commander. His usefulness may lie in developing a split between the members who still have jobs and a conservative viewpoint and those whom economic conditions have disaffected.

WATERS

Commander Waters of the B. E. F. recently became a member of the American Legion. Three hundred legion posts have joined in an land to speak at the convention. There is an even undercurrent movement in favor of his candidacy as national commander for the legion. Waters has a strong dislike for communists and refuses to have anything to do with the "Khaki Shirt" organization.

B. E. F.

The B. E. F. News is still being published but the B. E. F. as such has never gotten a nickle's worth of revenue from the paper. Its official status has therefore been terminated.

GREEN

William Green's Labor day speech in Pittsburgh attracted attention in New York. The financial district is quite sympathetic to Green and gives him much credit for restraining the ranks of labor from the adoption of left wing policies.

Such ideas as unemployment insurance and heavier inheritance and gift taxes—which he advocates—naturally arouse no enthusiasm in moneyed circles but his opinions are treated with respect. Several well-informed observers believe he is forecasting an inevitable legislative trend.

TRADE

An important mail order house recently ordered 30,000 dozen mens' shirts from one of its manufacturers. The manufacturer nearly fainted. He stands to lose plenty on the contract if cotton prices go up because he did not have the raw material on hand.

The house which bought is covering its requirements through the winter season on all merchandise where a major part of the cost is in the raw materials. Where labor is the majority item no forward commitments are being made.

EQUALITY OF ARMS DEMAND FROM GERMANY

der all circumstances" while attending army maneuvers at Koenigsberg. "We will no longer put up with being treated like a second-class nation," he said.

Explains Intention

The memorandum consisted of nine paragraphs. It did not mention any German desire to raise the army to strength of 300,000, as suggested in the French press. It explained the government's intention to modify the present status of the army as regulated by the Versailles treaty, with the view of increasing its fighting value.

"Germany always has demanded that all countries disarm to the same extent as Germany under Versailles, which is the simplest way to fulfill the German demand for equality," the memorandum said.

The memorandum insisted that the obligation to disarm be formulated in a treaty that would supersede part five of the Versailles treaty limiting Germany's arms. "Otherwise Germany would be forced to further play the role of a second class power," the memorandum added.

Picnics and Reunions

KANSAS

Every Kansan is invited to the big picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, September 10, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. Orville Belt and Ed Freeman will give whistling and guitar numbers. The county register will be open all day and hot coffee served. Judge William F. Schock will voice the welcome. Tourists from the Jay-hawker state were especially invited to meet friends.

Burglar Ransacks Robinson Home

A burglar ransacked the home of R. H. Robinson, resident of Yorba street, west of Seventeenth street, some time yesterday while members of the family were away from home and stole household goods worth $25, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Entrance into the house was made through a rear window, the screen over which had been cut.

COUNTY PARTY COMMITTEES TO MEET TUESDAY

Both the Orange county Republican and Democratic central committees will reorganize at meetings to be held in the courthouse next Tuesday. It was announced today by County Clerk Joe Backs. Chairmen will be selected and other organization details worked out. The hour for the two meetings has not yet been decided. Present officers of the county central committee are as follows: Republican—Chairman T. B. Talbert, secretary Milburn Harvey; Democratic—Chairman J. C. Mitchell, secretary B. Z. McKinney.

Results of the election of committees from the five supervisorial districts were announced today by County Clerk Backs. Tabulation of the ballots was completed late this morning. Some of the positions on the committees were contested and others were not.

There was no contest for Republican committeemen in the first district. Members chosen by the voters were John D. Ball, P. G. Beisel, Milburn G. Harvey, William Iverson, W. C. May and S. M. Reinhaus.

Louis Bennigsdorf, with 1126 votes, was eliminated in the contest for Republican committee in the second district. Members elected were William M. Morrill, 1409 votes; T. B. Talbert, 1313 votes; and Wellington D. LaVerne, 1198 votes.

There was no contest for election of Republican committeemen from the third district. Howard B. Irwin, Harold Jones, Ralph W. Maas, Harry Ray, J. Fred Sidelbottom, Ernest Walker and Donald L. Winans were chosen from this district.

J. F. Allen, William F. Feldner and Clyde Newton won the uncontested election for Republican central committee member from the fourth district.

There was no contest in the choosing of Democratic members of the county committee from the first district. Ben Blee, George Edgar, H. C. Head, J. Markel, John G. Mitchell, Charles Overshiner and H. M. Secret were elected from that district.

With a total of 665 votes, C. C. Violet won over W. S. Ebert with 629 votes for the contest for membership on the Democratic committee in the second district. Other members elected were W. H. Bentley, 824 votes; D. W. Huston, 824 votes.

Harry O. Warton of Anaheim lost a membership on the Democratic central committee by eight votes, obtaining 1873 votes against his opponent, Anna Mayes, who received 1881 votes. Other members elected from the third district were Carl W. Brenner, 2341 votes; Lee M. Hopper, 2297 votes; Ershal Morris, 2184 votes; Dan O'Hanlon, 1915 votes; and John L. Strickland, 2274 votes.

Vera Wetlin, with 31 write-in votes, won over H. M. Hilliard with 26 write-in votes, for the membership on the Democratic committee from the fourth district. Two members were chosen, the other being Walter Pixley, who appeared on the ballot and who received 596 votes.

In the fifth district, W. A. Ayers, E. E. French and Sam W. Nau were named on the Democratic central committee. There was no contest in this district.

The total vote in Orange county for the elections was 35,346 without the absent voter ballots, which totaled 126, it was announced today by County Clerk Backs. The figure represents about 60 per cent of the total number of registered voters in the county. Tabulations on all votes cast for candidates in the county had not been completed at noon today, but was expected to be completed by tomorrow.

Picnics and Reunions

WESTMINSTER PIONEERS
The Westminster Pioneers' association is scheduled to hold its annual picnic next Friday, September 9, at the church hall in Westminster. Basket lunch will be served at noon. Those coming are asked to bring pictures of interest by the president, Miss Lute Lyban, of Santa Ana. Mrs. Helen Schnitzer, of Garden Grove, is secretary.

Local Briefs

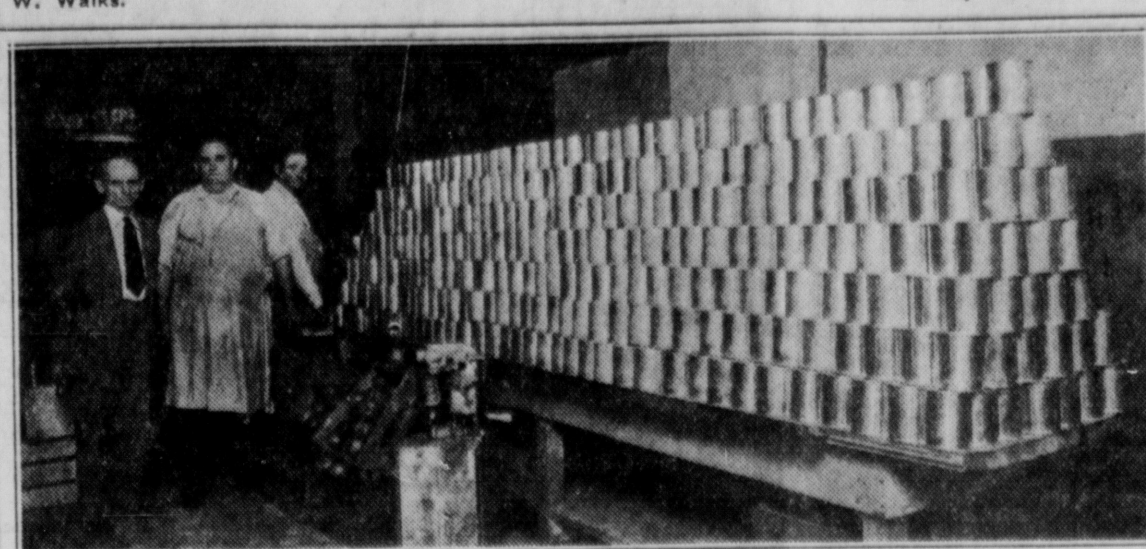

The Crippled Children's Relief association of Orange County, Inc., will hold a regular monthly directors meeting at McFarland's cafe in Fullerton Friday at noon, it was announced today by E. S. Morrow, president of the association.

Dr. F. M. Pottenger, noted authority on tuberculosis and president of the American College of Physicians, visited St. Joseph's hospital last night and spoke briefly to the nursing staff of the hospital on the subject "Tuberculosis."

LINDSAY—(UP)—A housecat with instincts of a watchdog is owned by Mrs. Mary Corwin. The cat awakened her the other night, enabling her to scare away a burglar.

RESULTS OF ONE DAY'S WORK

Shown here is the result of one day's work at the commissary of the Santa Ana Unemployed association where 1082 No. 2 1/2 cans of solid pack tomatoes were canned last Saturday, at a total cost of 31 cents per dozen. The lowest wholesale price is quoted at $1.20 per dozen, according to officials of the organizations. At the left are Charles T. Seebor, chairman, B. F. Dunnam and G. W. Walks.

UNEMPLOYED ASSOCIATION RETURNS $1 IN RELIEF FOR EVERY 25 CENTS DONATED

Assertions that the Unemployed association of Santa Ana is delivering $1 in relief to the needy for every 25 cents in funds furnished by the Citizens' Emergency Relief committee were proved today with the announcement by association officials that the association is now canning solid pack tomatoes at a cost of 31 cents per dozen cans, which cost $1.20 per dozen wholesale at the lowest price.

ELECTION EXPENSE STATEMENTS FILED

Campaign expenses of three successful candidates for public office at the recent primary election were filed in the county clerk's office this morning, as is required by law.

Judge James L. Allen, who defeated Franklin West for superior judge, office No. 2, spent a total of $807.68 for his campaign, while Judge Homer G. Ames, who defeated Roland Thompson for superior judge, office No. 1, spent $738.53, the reports show.

W. C. Jerome, who led the list of eight candidates for supervisor from the first district, spent $178 on his pre-nomination campaign, according to a report of the expenditures filed.

The association is paying for cans and fuel, with all other costs donated. The tomatoes were donated by George Maag, of San Juan Capistrano, who turned over a 10-acre patch to the Santa Ana unemployed association, which is picking and hauling the crop to the commissary here. Trucks are being operated by J. W. Sprague and George Pearson, members of the association. It is estimated that the total crop will provide 3500 cans.

Previously the association has canned quantities of fruit and beans and has put up several tons of kraut. Yesterday 520 cans of corn were added to the total for use during the coming winter.

A pressure cooker has been installed at headquarters for use in putting up food products in tin cans. Its use is being offered free to members of the association for personal use. Fourteen persons are working in the regular canning crew at headquarters.

The commissary is open from 1 to 3 p. m. each Tuesday and Saturday afternoon for inspection and visits by the public.

MRS. CLARA NICHOLS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Clara Ella Nichols, 68, wife of Thos. W. Nichols, 1335 Logan street, passed away yesterday. She had been in Imperial Valley until a month ago but previous to that time she had lived in Island, the Santa Ana. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Nichols has two daughters, Mrs. Ella Mae Ballentine of Los Angeles and Mrs. Thelma Moore of Orange; and seven sons, W. A. Nichols of Brawley, Leland and Bert Nichols of Westminster, Melvin Nichols of Garden Grove, A. P. Nichols, Dewey Nichols and Ivan Nichols of Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held from Winbiger's funeral home, 609 North Main street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Harry E. Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

POLICE SEARCH FOR HIT-RUN MOTORIST

Police were today seeking the driver of a hit-and-run automobile which crashed into a car driven by Adolph Jones of 205 Lemon street, Anaheim, at St. Gertrude's place and South Main street at midnight last night.

No one was hurt.

Jones reported the car cut in on him, the spare tire frame catching in his front bumper. The bumper was pulled off as was the spare tire. The driver of the car did not stop. Police confiscated the spare tire and are trying to find the driver of the machine through the tire's serial number.

Purse Taken from Store Recovered

A purse, owned by Miss L. V. Hill, Santa Ana, was stolen from a counter in a downtown store here yesterday afternoon.

The robbery was reported to police officers and was quickly recovered, recovered the purse within an hour at the home of Mrs. A. Perez, of 2304 West Fifth street, according to a report he made at the police station. Nothing in it was taken.

Hill reported that he had recovered three stolen purses from the woman's home recently. She was not arrested.

Police News

Charged with possession of liquor, two Mexicans were lodged in the county jail last night by Fullerton officers. Henry Jimenez, 38 of the Pomona camp, Fullerton and John Gonzales, 19, of the same address, each were sentenced to 15 and a half days in jail, in lieu of fines $25 each imposed.

Charged with violation of a Newport Beach city ordinance, Wayne Crumrine, 23, of 707 Spruce street, Santa Ana, was brought here last night by Newport Beach officers and lodged in the county jail.

VETERANS ATTEND RECEPTION IN L. A.

A large delegation of members of Jack Fisher chapter No. 23, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, attended the reception for National Commander Bill Conley in Patriotic hall in Los Angeles last night.

Conley outlined the various legislative matters affecting veterans and told of the attack being waged by the National Economy league, which he termed the Anti-Veterans' league. He asserted that the promoters of the league are mainly rich men and retired regular Army officers, the latter with retired pay not affected by proposed reductions. He declared that drastic reductions in benefits to veterans would increase the necessity for local relief and thereby increase local taxation.

State Chief of Staff Harry Pickard, Santa Ana, is working in the Los Angeles headquarters on veterans' activities, according to Earl B. Hawks, local commander.

Court Notes

Seeking annulment of his marriage to his wife, Amelia A. Mahoney, George F. Mahoney has filed suit for legal separation in superior court. The complaint filed by Mahoney claims that the couple never lived together as husband and wife, and that the defendant was at the time of the marriage physically incapable of entering into such marriage state. They were married in Fullerton on August 31, 1932, and never lived together as husband and wife, according to the complaint.

ADVANTAGES OF CONTRACT LAW DEMONSTRATED

Demonstrating the legislative work that the contractors of the state have secured in the past several years and the power of the penalties that enable the license of the contractor who does not live up to his contract, to be suspended, a mock hearing was conducted last evening at the monthly meeting of the Builders' Exchange that was held at the Anahem Elk's clubhouse at 6:30 o'clock.

The hearing was presided over by Hal G. Stiles of Los Angeles, chief examiner and investigator for the Registrar of Contractors of the Southern California section, who also spoke briefly on the work of his office that has been established now for a little more than a year.

He said that the new law, with its amendments has no particular weakness and has been a protection to the legitimate contractor.

"Six hundred contractors have been put out of business in California as a direct result of the same plan as other professions. In time I believe that there will be pre-qualification requirements."

Earl R. Ruddy and Harold Baris gave brief talks on better business, the former telling of his recent experiences in Washington, D. C. while attending a convention. Ruddy said that a feeling of stability is being felt all over the east and that through credit a new feeling of enthusiasm is being injected into the American people.

It was decided to fit up a display room whereby, each member of the exchange, will have four feet square space to fill for exhibit and advertising purposes.

Announcement was made of the annual convention for the California State Builders' Exchange that will be held in Stockton on September 30 and October 1 at the Clark hotel. Delegates will be decided upon in a few days.

W. J. Kelly presided over the meeting, and the program during the dinner hour was presented by a dance orchestra from the Fremont school in Santa Ana.

Harvard College was opened in 1638.

HEARING OPENS ON REQUEST TO OUST TRUSTEE

A hearing to show cause why trustee Aymlmore, local attorney, should not be removed as trustee of the Otto Lewis estate, valued at $150,000 in 1925, on a motion to depose him and an objection to his accounting, filed by Truman Lewis, one of the 20 beneficiaries, was started before Judge G. K. Seovel in superior court this morning.

Otto Lewis died here on November 25, 1926, leaving an estate which at that time was valued at $150,000. Aymlmore has been trustee of the estate for more than a year. It was stated in the motion, Ray Crenshaw, who was appointed referee of the estate, filed an audit with the court which is alleged to show a shortage of $16,254.61 in cash which belongs to the estate. Crenshaw was being questioned by W. Maxwell Burke and John Colwell, attorneys for Aymlmore, when recess was declared at noon. Stanley Reinhaus is attorney for Lewis, and claims that the shortage is existent.

A motion made by the defense attorneys to halt the hearing on the grounds that all beneficiaries were not represented was denied by Judge Seovel, on the grounds that they were represented by a formal appearance and that Lewis was representing all of the 20 beneficiaries.

Aymlmore's attorneys point out that certain commissions and fees for handling the estate were taken out by Aymlmore, and that if the fees are allowed, the estate account will show a balance due Aymlmore instead of the estate. The attorneys intimated that if the fees are not allowed, the matter will be appealed to the supreme court.

Defendant Moves; Dismiss Charge

A speeding charge against Dr. Guy W. Burns, of Los Angeles, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today, because Dr. Burns has moved out of the state.

He was accused of speeding 58 miles an hour over a local intersection. He did not appear for the hearing and then the court learned that he had taken up residence in New York.

Dr. Thomson Gets Cushman Practice

Dr. H. H. Thomson, former member of the house staff of the General hospital in Los Angeles, has moved his family to Santa Ana and taken over the practice of Dr. R. H. Cushman, who was recently made superintendent of a state hospital.

Dr. Thomson and his family are living in the former Cushman home at 632 North Broadway. Prior to his medical work Dr. Thomson was engaged in educational work in Massachusetts.

BOND SALESMAN BOUND OVER ON THEFT CHARGE

Charged with grand theft, P. A. Williams, Los Angeles bond salesman, was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today in bail of $5000 at the conclusion of his preliminary examination.

The man is alleged to have swindled at least 40 Orange county persons in an oil stock transaction, which took place here in the early part of this year, according to Herman Zabel, superintendent of the bureau of identification for the sheriff's office, who has been interested in the case for the past several months.

The complaining witness in the case is D. A. Campbell, of Orange, who is alleged to have been swindled out of $225, put up as an assessment made on him as well as a group of other Orange persons who formed a holding company for the stock they owned in a supposed defunct oil concern, Zabel said.

TREED CAT RESCUED

EL PASO, Tex.—(UP)—A gaunt cat that yowled several days atop a telegraph pole was rescued by Fire Alarm Superintendent Charley Walker, after residents no longer could stand the serenade. The cat was chased up the pole by a dog, and sat there several days, fearing to meet the aggressor. The cat had nearly starved to death.

BUY Insured LUBRICATION

from your Independent Dealer

A BEARING went bad, he missed his train and lost his order! Such events happen many times every day, for more than 20,000,000 bearings—an average of over 50,000 every day—were replaced in passenger cars and light trucks in the United States last year.

The cause of these millions of replacements can, almost without exception, be laid to faulty or insufficient lubrication. Now to solve the baffling problem of proper lubrication, Quaker State offers Insured Lubrication through independent dealers who display the familiar green and white Quaker State sign. They will supply your car with the right Quaker State lubricants in the right places at the right time.

"If you will have your independent dealer use only Quaker State lubricants in your car and adopt the Quaker State Plan of Lubrication, we will supply you with a One Year Guarantee insured in The Travelers Indemnity Company of Hartford, Conn., which agrees to pay the customary cost of repairing or replacing any burned out and inoperative bearings resulting from faulty or insufficient lubrication."

To secure this protection it is asked that besides using Quaker State products exclusively, you equip your car with the device called "Roll-o-Miles." Your Insured Guarantee will be sent free. "Roll-o-Miles" is a lubrication guide and Check-Chart in a metal container. It rolls up and fits into the pocket of your car, providing a chassis diagram of your car showing every lubrication point with the proper lubricant required, with space for making a record of every oiling and greasing job.

DECLARES WAR. BOOZE CAUSES OF DEPRESSION

Declaring that the world is in the condition that it is in today because people have failed to live up to the principles laid by Jesus, the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of Garden Grove M. E. church, delivered an address over KREG during the W. C. T. U. hour yesterday.

"The plight of our day," he said, "resembles that of a little child hopelessly lost, in the streets without any sense of direction and growing more and more bewildered by the roar of traffic. In his heart is a desperate longing for the sight of a familiar face, and for that lost sense of security which seems more than ever precious."

"The old order that we knew and were familiar with yesterday has passed away with such rapidity until today we all seem strangers and dazed at it all. There is great distress and fear in the nations and in the hearts of men and women."

"Why have all these tribulations come upon us? When will the turmoil end. When will we ever gain our lost security? We have not as yet discovered that famous corner around which we have been told is prosperity."

Ignore Real Causes
"What are most of our supposed leaders doing? They are doing just what they have been doing for the past 10 years. They are still studying the symptoms on the surface and ignoring the real causes. We ask them to tell us what is wrong with the world and they give us a page of figures. I was taught that figures wouldn't lie. But the stock markets and the wet papers of this country have gotten by with some of the biggest lies in the history of humanity."

"I think it is the business of the world in and without the church to stop studying symptoms and get at the root of the causes of the condition and be honest. Our life here should be a ladder of progress."

NOTED AUTHOR PREDICTS THAT DEPRESSION WILL MEAN END OF PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Dr. Hendrik Van Loon, Dutch-American who translated the Bible into what he called "popular form," paused in London long enough recently to predict that the well-known depression would put an end to the professional politician.

and will be unless it is hindered by selfish motives of men for greed. War and booze have been the two great hindrances to the progress of mankind and are the causes of the depression.

"If we could get our public schools and newspapers and the radio to play fair and follow the teachings of Him who lived on earth 2000 years ago and who still lives today, we could soon make this world a fit place in which to live."

Hope For Future
"We are where we are today because we have lived contrary to the principles laid down by Jesus Christ. Not because they were laid down by Jesus, but because they are right. Jesus said that two things are important in this world for existence. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God and thy neighbor as thyself. You and I know we have not done this. There is but one law and that is the law of love. But man has broken this law."

"The law of life and the only law by which mankind can live and prosper is the law of goodwill."

"In every battle there comes a crisis when the opposing forces lock in a final struggle from which one or the other emerges victorious. All over the world such a struggle is on. I have hope as I see Christian people all over the country beginning to arouse themselves and make statements that something must be done."

DEAD WOMAN VOTER
GRASS VALLEY—(UP)—The ballot of a dead woman was counted at the state primary here. It was cast by Maggie Jones several days before she died of gunshot wounds.

Arriving from Amsterdam by airplane—his first airplane ride—the so-called laughing philosopher had harsh things to say about the state of the world in general and what he termed "the silly rulers of America."

"In a few years time," he declared, "professional politicians will have been eliminated by force of circumstances, meaning the hard times. Some people who have studied the world will come to realize that the professional politician has been whipping us toward destruction."

"The outcome of the present chaos will be a balanced economy. The world will group itself. It is doing so already. You have it in Italy, Russia and other places."

"How will the world arrive at that sanity? Through hunger. It's the only way."

His diagnosis of America can be summed up in a few dozen words:

"The trouble with America," said the author, "is that immediately after the war people were so rich they didn't care who ruled them. Now they've got to care. Things are so bad that they cannot be neglected."

"And how silly the rulers of America are! They have no foreign policy at all. They won't say 'We believe in the League of Nations,' and they won't say 'To Hell with the League.' Instead they send a few silly little men to Geneva and say 'We don't care two hoots what you do about Europe, but if you do anything, by golly we'll stand for it.' It's all so absurd."

Dr. Van Loon said he had practically abandoned any further writing of books dealing with hard-fact history.

Wide Search Is Started for Dog Of S. A. Physician

A widespread search was under way today for Prince, two-year-old German police dog owned by Dr. Frank Ashmore, the animal disappearing from near his home at 525 West Santa Clara avenue, Saturday.

Neighbors have reported that a dog answering the description of Prince was seen in an automobile with a group of Mexicans. The animal, which was unusually large, weighing 65 pounds, has jet black back and muzzle, tan shoulders, legs and underbody and dark brown ears and face. The collar bears Santa Ana license No. 24. A reward is being offered for information leading to recovery of the dog.

Police of a number of Southern California cities have been notified and it is believed that the animal will be recovered within the next few days.

Announce Special Rates For Fair

Special roundtrip fares to the Pomona fair have been inaugurated by the Pacific Electric and the Motor Transit lines, according to an announcement today by E. C. Thomas, general agent of the Pacific Electric lines.

The further announcement is made that effective October 1 on the Pacific Electric all regular roundtrip tickets will have return limits of 30 days instead of 10 days as now provided.

Recommendations For Patrol Made

The board of Supervisors, at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, made further recommendations to E. Raymond Cate, chief of the California Highway Patrol, for examinations for State highway patrol officers. A. J. Collins and Kenneth Foster were the two men recommended. Other recommendations were made at the last meeting of the board.

Editor, Santa Ana Register,

Dear Sir:

There are some thoughts relating to my re-election as judge of superior court that I would like to express to you and, through you, to the people of your community.

Beyond the personal gratification it brought me, as a sign of confidence from the electorate of this county, there was a deeply grateful feeling for the friends and supporters who so loyally espoused my candidacy. I owe them much and I want them to know that I realize the debt.

My appreciation extends, also, to the voters who have again granted me the privilege of serving them. They have shown me that conscientious effort in public service does not go unrewarded. Their approval, as expressed at the polls, strengthens and renews my determination to continue giving my best to the work ahead of me.

I will esteem it a great favor if you will convey this expression of my feeling to your readers.

Very sincerely yours,

H. G. AMES.

WALKER TO SEEK COLLEGE GRID POSITIONS

Walker, Reformed, In Shape For Schmeling

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Predictions that bloom in the spring have nothing to do with the case, of course. But last March, your zealous correspondent picked the Cubs to win the National League pennant, for the reason that the club had acquired the services of Burleigh Grimes.

It turned out that the reasons were Warneke and Grimm. It happened that Grimes didn't get going, fitness and injuries kept him out for weeks at a time.

But that old woodsman isn't out of the picture yet. In a recent game in which he gave the Giants six hits, the venerable lord of Burleigh showed that he is back. From now on, through the world series, keep in touch with the golfer on of Mr. Grimes.

THE TWO STAFFS

New York experts seem to be unanimous in the view that the Yankees pitching staff outclasses the mound department of the Cubs. It must be granted that the Cubs, without a good left-hander, will face a disadvantage against the five Yanks who left-handed—Combs, Sewell, Ruth, Gehrig and Dickey.

But it is also true that the "rankness" case, Lefty Gomez, faces a similar situation when he meets the Cubs. Stephenson, Herman, English, Cuyler, Hartnett, Hemsey and Jurens are right-handed bats, and Jurens and Mark Koenig is a "turn hitter," which means that he bats either way.

For the Cubs, it may be said that they have two of the greatest money pitchers in baseball—Grimes and Bush. It is hard to forget how Bush rallied the Cubs four years ago in the series with the A's. Pitching in a strange park, Philadelphia, and a park made to order for the Mack sluggers, by the way, Bush won the only game of the series that the Cubs took.

WARNEKE IS QUESTION

Lon Warneke has been a brilliant pitcher, establishing himself as a 20-game winner. But too much cannot be demanded of him in a world series in his first year. He may be very good and he may be awful. Paul Derringer was the find of the Cards' pitching staff last year, winning 18 games, but he was just a pain in the neck in the world series, in which he figured in three games and was officially blamed for losing two.

Both Root and Malone have been under world series fire, neither having been able to win a game in the 1929 series with the Athletics, though each pitched some masterful ball.

Root started the series, against Howard Ehmke. After he had shut out the A's for six innings, Foxx drove one out of the park. Bush finished the game, the final score being 2 to 1, only one of the Mack's runs being earned.

BAD INNINGS

Malone was driven out of the box in the second game of that series. Bush won the third and Root was shelled from the mound in that famous 16-run seventh inning of the fourth game after he had pitched six scoreless innings.

Malone pitched the last game and it was a fine performance up to the ninth inning. He blanked the A's for eight innings. Then, with one out, and the Cubs leading, 2 to 0, Ehmke singled and Hays hit a home run, tying the score. After Howard Bush had thrown out Cochran, Simmons doubled to center, Foxx was walked and "Bing" Miller's drive to center broke up the game.

Both Root and Malone, however, should be better pitchers by reason of their experiences.

GARDEN GROVE NIPS MACMILLANS IN 11TH

Night baseball, leading summer sport of the section, was as dead as Dickens' doornail here today.

The season's last game was played at the Garden Grove stadium, Garden Grove beating MacMillan, 7-6, in the second of a best two-out-of-three game series between the champions of the Orange County and Santa Ana City leagues, respectively.

Winner of the first test by an overwhelming margin, Garden Grove had to come from behind to whip the MacMillans in the second affair. Home runs by Geddes and Kahn tied the score at 4-4 in the eighth, and angles by Andros and Hadzior, plus a stolen base and a wild pitch ended it in the eleventh.

PLAYBOY QUILTS BROADWAY FOR SHOT AT TITLE

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

(I. N. S. Sports Writer)
SUMMIT, N. J., Sept. 7.—(INS)—They say that even if he was good enough, he isn't big enough and that, even if he were both, he has only a fading remnant of the ability that once made him great. The rest of it, they say, was left on countless tables in countless dine, dance and daily spots, much as a thoughtless woman leaves her handbag.

But the man himself told another story today, 32 days out from his fight with Schmeling, a fight that will send one or the other of them on to a match for the heavyweight championship itself.

He said he'd been around the fight game 13 years and only now had come to know the real meaning of physical condition, the kind you get from rugged virtue and honest living. I trust nobody will be shocked to learn that I'm talking about Mickey Walker, the prize fighter.

Neither would I care to have this appear as a mute sermon to the youth of the land, but the fact of the matter is that the ex-playboy claims that he's turned sedate. He said he'd reformed, and when I asked something about the inevitable and how it was that men got through before their time, he was indignant.

"Through?" he echoed, incredulously. "I'm only beginning. I've just learned how to live."

Broadway, he said, hadn't seen him in more than a year. The simple life was the thing. It seemed, and the wine, woman and song routine, so appealing in former years, is now no more. Meantime, hard liquor is out and has been, says he, these two months. He admits to a little ale yesterday because he has been down here for four weeks and is practically ready now and, besides, he's beginning to suspect that circuspect living has brought him to a condition that no training ring can hope to achieve.

In fact, he seems to have made two remarkable discoveries down here. The first is that there is really nothing disgraceful about virtue; the second, that after all it need not be dull.

SCRIMMAGE ON SCHEDULE FOR HIT TOMORROW

One week deep in the 1932 program, Santa Ana Hi's football squad will plunge into the most interesting part of its seasonal preparation tomorrow afternoon with a scrimmage, the first serious one of the new season, on the practice schedule.

Saturday afternoon also will be devoted largely to actual inter-squad warfare, with the going likely to be more severe than Thursday's initial contact.

Dissatisfied with progress thus far, Coach "Tex" Oliver announced today that two practice sessions will be held both tomorrow and Friday, the morning drill to begin at 10 o'clock and the afternoon workout at 2. The once-a-day program will be resumed Saturday afternoon, and thereafter be followed throughout the rest of the season. School class work starts next week.

Emphasis was to be placed today on punting, with all the problems that surround it, such as protection for the kicker, getting down under punts, and catching them.

The Saints have no less than five capable pignish spinners this term and today's workout was to give Oliver his first indication as to which will succeed "Toy" Blower in the role of Saint bootsman. Art Stranske, sophomore back, probably gets more distance than any of the others but Captain "Red" Klidder and Bob Mitchell are more accurate and Francis Conrad and Floyd Montgomery are good enough to extend the other trio.

Three new candidates checked out unless yesterday and were expected to report today. One of these, Jim Gruettner, is a transfer from South Pasadena Hi where he played last year. He is a six-footer who scales 155 pounds.

Richard Crowell, a junior, and Carl Schultz, a sophomore, are other newcomers who will find a welcome on the Oliver roster. Coach "Tex" likes underclassmen and the earlier they report is the better as far as he is concerned. Crowell weighs 150, Schultz 174.

FOOTE, WATSON TRIUMPH IN 36-HOLE TOURNAMENT

W. W. (Bill) Foote, Santa Ana Hi coach, and A. B. Watson were first place winners in the Santa Ana Country club's 36-hole medal play tournament, completed yesterday.

Foote, with two identical rounds of 75, had low gross aggregate of 150.

Watson shot 82 and 75 for 157-24-133 and low net. Second round went to Earl Wilson, 154-16-138.

Class B winners: Low gross—Re x Kennedy, 54-85-169. Low net—Dr. W. E. Watkins, 182-48-134, first; Dr. C. P. Patton, 171-36-135, second.

Call Series Meeting In N. Y. Friday

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(INS)—Commissioner Kene-

saw Mountain Landis, czar of baseball, today called a meeting here, Friday of representatives of the clubs having a "mathematical possibility" of winning the American and National league pennants. At the meeting preliminary details of the world's series will be made.

Everyone but Judge Landis seemed agreed that the series would be between the New York Yankees and the Chicago Cubs but the judge said today: "You can never take anything for granted; the pennants have not yet been won."

Landis said the only thing as yet decided about the series was that the games will open in the American league winner's city.

Representatives of the Yankees, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Washington Senators of the American league and Chicago, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn of the National league were invited to attend the meeting here Friday.

COUNTRY CLUB 'LAME DUCKS' BEGIN TOURNEY

BY CLAIRE BURCKY

(NEA Service Writer)
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Amos Alonzo Stagg, 42 years! Glenn S. (Pop) Warner, 38 years! Gilmore (Gill) Dobbie, 31 years! Dan McGugin, 29 years!

Add up the years these venerable grid mentors have spent on the football field and you have, or will have at the end of the 1932 season, a total of 140 years of coaching experience. And intercollegiate football is less than 65 years old.

It is purely a coincidence that the four oldest football teachers in point of service represent the four major geographic sections of the grid world. At the same time, it emphasizes the point that football is universal in this country.

Stagg is a Yale man, one of the first men in Blue to win All-American honors, but he has put in all of his coaching years at University of Chicago, in the midwestern sector. Despite some rather lean years of late, he still has an edge in victories over most of the teams his Maroons encounter.

Warner came from Cornell and got to Stanford university on the Pacific coast by way of Carlisle and Pitt. There never has been a Warner-coached team that was lightly regarded by its opponent, that is, not since Pop's tricky Carlisle Redskins ran wild 20 years or so ago.

Whether Jim Thorpe of the old Indian teams, or Ernie Nevers, more recent Stanford All-American fullback, was the greatest of Warner's players is beside the point. They were among the game's greatest, at any rate.

Dobbie learned his football at the University of Minnesota. Cornell took him as head coach about 12 years ago, after his steady progress upward from an assistant coaching job at Minnesota to head coach at North Dakota Aggies, University of Washington and the U. S. Naval Academy.

His first years at Cornell were bright with the great deeds of Kaw Pfann, Sunstrom and others. Then his horizon clouded and only in the last two years has any sun shone on Cornell's football. Rumors had him resigning under pressure in 1929, but he weathered the storm. The last two years again have been sunny. But Gil continues to be the glomiest of tutors.

More than any other individual McGugin is responsible for the growth of football in the south. From Michigan's "point-a-minute" teams under Fielding Yost, Dan moved into Vanderbilt university in the fall of 1904.

He was met at the train by a delirious Vandy captain. But McGugin climbed to the cab driver's seat and cracked jokes with that individual all the way to the campus. He has been cracking jokes and making great football players ever since.

Abercrombie New Fullerton Coach

FULLERTON, Sept. 7.—Edward Abercrombie, graduate of University of Oregon, was chosen to succeed Al Dowden as director of water sports and activities and as coach of the Class C football and basketball teams of Fullerton high school at the meeting of the board of directors of the school yesterday.

Dowden, who has been at the school many years, resigned to take a position as swimming coach at the University of California at Berkeley.

FIRST 140 YEARS THE HARDEST IN FOOTBALL

Two Bates Brothers Battle For Stanford Center Job

NEW ED WALKER IN BACKFIELD

(This is the second of a series of articles dealing with football generalities at Stanford University.)

BY DON LIEBENDORFER

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 7.—Two brothers—Charlie and Bill Bates—will be trying out for the center position at Stanford this year. Charlie comes up from the freshmen while Bill made his letter last season. Bill played in tough luck in 1931. After a long uphill fight had gained his recognition, he was named in the starting lineup for the Dartmouth game, only to be stricken with appendicitis. Although he witnessed the game, he did not play.

Gordon Campbell, heady little boy who has been shifted from left halfback to quarterback and is considered the leading candidate for the latter position, has completely recovered from a knee injury sustained in spring practice and is ready to go, according to word from his home in Carmel. Campbell has been working hard all summer to strengthen the injured member and is now dodging twisting, and running as well as ever, our operatives tell us.

Ed Walker's name may again be on the lips of Stanford supporters this fall. Ed the Second, a brother of the famous Stanford end of several years ago, tried his hand at a wing position without much success, but shifted to quarterback in spring practice because of a dearth of backs, and pleased "Pop" Warner mightily with his work.

Stan Anderson, quarterback and Ernie Caddell, halfback were the two leading pitchers on the Indian baseball team last spring.

Ben Palamont, who is conceded a splendid chance to land a regular tackle job, is considered one of the best heavyweight boxers in Stanford's recent history. Footwork in the ring should help Ben with his tackle playing.

Don Colvin, who earned Stanford a tie in the last twenty seconds of play against U. C. L. A. last year by snagging a pass behind the goal line, will continue to throw terror into the hearts of opponents. Don, who stands 6 feet 4 inches and uses all of his height to advantage, was considered the best pass catcher on the coast last year. His defensive work is good too.

"Dusty" Allen, who tossed the pass which Colvin caught, in the U. C. L. A. game, is slated for a tough fight if he is to win the fullback position. Jack Hillman appears to be a bit too versatile for Dusty, but the latter will doubtless see plenty of action.

Ken Afflerbaugh, hard running and elusive little halfback, who distinguished himself by running 81 yards for a touchdown against Oregon State last year, is another who will have a hard time winning regular spurs. However, Ken has gained ten pounds this summer and inasmuch as he has played both left and right halfback, will prob-

SPORTS BULLETINS

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Henri Cochet of France led the field into the quarter-final bracket of the 51st annual Men's National Tennis championships today when he defeated Johnny Van Ryn of Philadelphia 7-5, 6-3, 8-6 in a third round match.

George Lott, runner up last year and seeded No. 4, joined Cochet in the round of eight when he defeated Takeo Kuwabara, Japan's No. 1 man, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. Lott's strong net play was the features of his game.

Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Cal., defending champion, continued his triumphant march by smothering Keith Gledhill, his doubles partner, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—(UP)—The veteran Bob Meusel, outfielder, and Mike Gazzella, third baseman, were given their unconditional release by the Hollywood Stars today. Meusel, formerly with the New York Yankees, was signed two months ago for a try-out. Gazzella also came from the Yanks three years ago. The veterans were dropped to make room for youngsters being recalled from the Poinsett league.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—(UP)—A second "little world series" between the Portland Beavers, Pacific Coast league leaders, and the winner of the junior world series between Minneapolis of the Western association and Newark of the International league will start in Portland October 9, it was announced today.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(UP)—The New York Yankees are favorites to win their probable world series with the Chicago Cubs, Jack Doyle, Broadway betting commissioner, announced today.

Frosh Stars Will Return To Oregon U.

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 7.—(INS)—Rumors that the husky brood of Oregon freshmen football players gathered by Dr. Clarence Spears from the Midwest would follow him to Wisconsin are dispelled.

Mike Mikulak, flashy sophomore fullback, has just completed a "flivver" journey from Minnesota with two of last year's freshmen squad, Roy Gagnon, guard, and Jim Gemlo, center.

He reports another "flivver" load of Minnesota freshmen emigrants are bouncing along the highway, Oregon bound. George Pepelnack, halfback, is leading the pack which includes Bree Cupoletti, guard; Ross Smith, guard, and Stan Kostaka, 215-pound fullback.

Twenty-two prospects answered the first call yesterday, and the Don mentor was expecting a like number today, and another two dozen or so tomorrow and Friday. Having uncovered 70 prospects, exclusive of several ones yesterday, Coach Cook expects to start off Monday with a record-breaking roster.

Four Tuscan prospects—Lucius Conkey, "Bud" Staples, Bruce Handy and Dean Benton—were on the missing list, and reports were that they might not attend college this fall on account of present jobs. Conkey, tackle, played for the Dons last year, while Staples, Handy and Benton were starring for Coach Bill Cook's Tuscan prep eleven.

Harold Welty, former triple-threat quarterback of Orange Hi, and six of Coach "Tex" Oliver's 1931 Santa Ana Hi, champions were among those reporting yesterday. The Saints were Jim Lash, end; Fred Bell, halfback; LeRoy Desmet, guard; Clarence Lewis,

CHOPS, SLICES FROM NATIONAL COURT TOURNEY

By HENRY McLEMORE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(UP)—A few chops and slices from the men's National tennis championships:

Asked if Japan would ever win the Davis Cup, Jiroh Satoh, that country's No. 1 man, replied, "Yes, we will. In about 100 years, I'd say." . . . funny way they run tennis in Satoh's land . . . soon as a man wins a tournament the government ships him off on a tour of the world, and he is not allowed to defend his title in order to give someone else a chance. . . .

Best crack of the tournament goes to Jim Burchard, World-Telegram expert, who on hearing that Suzanne Lenglen was playing matches now clad only in shorts and a brassiere, said: "There's yet a chance that they might get the Women's National championship on a paying basis."

Eye For Publicity

Whoever is managing young Frankie Parker's affairs, certainly has an eye for publicity. . . . Frankie uses a snow white racket you can see a mile and wears short knickerbockers, to better accentuate his youth . . . what he needs more than these things, however, is a net game and more power in his strokes. . . . you can go so far and no farther, with a pit-pat game, no matter how you accentuate . . . the Milwaukee schoolboy's game apparently is modeled after Cochet's, but the Frenchman, when he wants to, can smack a forehand with the best of them . . . not once during his four-set match did Parker "put the ball away with one shot."

They're making a mistake at Forest Hills by giving the linesmen soft cushions to sit on . . . just as soon as a linesman gets comfortable, he goes to sleep . . . as a result, some of the decisions, especially on service, have been terrible.

Champion Inconspicuous

Ellsworth Vines hasn't played on a stadium court since the opening day, the officials having seen fit to make the champion perform on the scraggly field courts . . . wonder if they'll let him inside if he gets to the final? . . . Can't you just picture the officials sticking Bill Tilden out on a field court, among the "mob"? . . . maybe they're trying to keep Vines "humble," so he won't become the high-handed, domineering champion Tilden was . . .

HARD WORK TO BEGIN MONDAY: WELTY REPORTS

Unable to complete his football roster until Freshman Week terminates Friday, Coach Bill Cook of Santa Ana junior college will postpone the main points of his preliminary drills until next Monday, he announced today.

Regular attendance at "Frosh" day sessions is required of all entering students, thereby conflicting with early football drills. Limbering-up exercises, passing and kicking practice will be on the slate the rest of the week for sophomore candidates and others free to report.

Twenty-two prospects answered the first call yesterday, and the Don mentor was expecting a like number today, and another two dozen or so tomorrow and Friday. Having uncovered 70 prospects, exclusive of several ones yesterday, Coach Cook expects to start off Monday with a record-breaking roster.

KING-GRANT SPEED DUEL IS PROPOSED

Ted King, Santa Ana's elongated speed king, today cast his goggles down in the form of a challenge to Ray Grant, Portland motorbike racing ace who rules the track at the Municipal Bowl, King, through his managers, stated that he would be willing to meet Grant on a winner-take-all basis here Saturday night.

The tall Orange county handlebar twister is not at all satisfied with the deal he received from Referee Al Kogler last week when he was allowed to enter but three races. He rode in cyclonic fashion to bring his Rathburn Special home first in one event. In the second "Mutu" Kelly's machine smashed into his on the far turn and in the pileup Ted was eliminated. In the third another accident resulted in him finishing fourth.

"I want to meet Grant in a match race to show the fans that I'm as fast as any of these invaders from other parts of the country," said King. "It's no idle boast. I don't even guarantee that I'll beat this Portland boy. But I want a chance."

It is believed that the challenge will be accepted and that the race will be held Saturday night.

Grant has swept the card in the past two weeks. The Rose City broadsword holds the course record on 15.2 seconds.

FOR LIMERICK
TEST TONIGHT

Another limerick contest will end tonight with some radio listeners receiving a case of 24 bottles of Klek as reward for submitting the cleverest limerick of the week. All limericks submitted have been read over radio KREG. Last week's winner was little Betty Scheel of Santa Ana.

In connection with the limerick contest over radio KREG at 6:45 p. m. the studio will hold "open house" during presentation of the program sponsored by the Jester Beverage company.

After a brief absence due to illness Grace and Jimmy Silvers are back on the air and will give another of their pleasing musical programs at 8 o'clock tonight. This team of artists has built up a large following of listeners who anxiously await their regular broadcasts of popular music.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock Jack Golden, "King of Guitar Players," will be on the air with another of his presentations. The programs by Golden are always outstanding features of the afternoon broadcast and many complimentary letters are received in connection with them.

Little "stand-up" collars—these are quite nearly as often as the "close-to-the-throat" line. One leads to the other and we have gradually arrived after seasons of effort at the place where only the high-up-to-the-neck line in daytime bodices looks smart. Vi-onnet is among those who have trained their collars to stand up, and what she says goes.

GREEN GABLES, 2115 N. Main. STYLE marks with distinction every model seen at "Your Fashion Shop" today. These beautiful dresses for office, street, afternoon and every occasion, are new in a sense that includes the smartest material, design and color for fall. One's eye is caught by a cloth tucled in the new blackberry color, with velvet trim of same shade. A bluish satin in brown flaments its charm of inside-out trim of same material. A very dressy effect for afternoon is obtained by using a high blouse or yoke of all-over lace under cloth jacket. Braid and caracul fabric are prominent in trim for the tailored cloth dress. Pebble crepe is popular, though perhaps quite a match so as bluster satin. Full and half sizes.

JOE'S SELF-SERVICE GROCERY, Grand Central Annex, B'way at 2nd. At Joe's you are sure to find the best in nationally advertised articles, package and canned goods. That's why JOE'S is such a popular place for household marketing. Home-town boys are always on the job to help you find what you want—and what you want is sure to be found at JOE'S. Prices at JOE'S Self-Service are steady and dependable, always consistent with the high grade merchandise offered. If you have not yet found this very satisfactory home-owned grocery store, NOW is the time for doing yourself and family that big favor.

Black satin may sound old to you but it's distinctly "new" for the coming season, especially for afternoon, and for those who like to be real fussy on such occasions, black satin is seen embroidered with jet.

THE GUSTLIN MUSIC ARTS CONSERVATORY, 519-521 N. Sycamore. Don't start the school year top-heavy with The Music Arts Conservatory is now open and fully equipped with expert teachers in piano and other branches of musical education. You are offered the unusual opportunity of band and orchestral instruction under Julian Mathews, Phillip Hood, Jr., special teacher of the flute. And the art display at the Music-Arts offers interesting changes periodically.

UTT JUICE COMPANY, Tustin. Buy it anywhere in Orange County. QUEEN ISABELLA makes friends far from home. They are just as enthusiastic about that Queen Isabella gold-en-bud to make tomato juice in Texas and New Mexico as they are in California, because there simply is no substitute for the pure, clear, California-made tomato juice carrying the label of Queen Isabella. QUEEN ISABELLA does not confine herself to tomato juice alone but gives you bottled and ready for use juices from almost every California fruit, including cord grape juice, orange juice, pineapple and even the new drink made from grapefruit, which is delightful. These pure fruit juices are now selling as low as 13 cents a pint and 25c a quart at local markets. Queen Isabella tomato juice sells for 12c quart. Queen Isabella juices are the "royal" road to refreshing health.

LAMBERS SHINING PARLOR, 108 E. 4th. SUMMER is fading, and so are your light shade shoes and bags, no doubt. That is no tragedy. Take them to LAMBERS for a new coat from his 96 different dyes, sprayed on in a manner to make your shoes look like they had just come from the factory. The cost is negligible, and you have a new fall matched costume. LAMBERS has remodeled his place and is now able to furnish you perfect comfort at the most crowded hours of "shining 'em up". He also has a large case of cleaners of all kinds, right where you can take your pick. Phone 3858-J for information about dyeing.

MISSION FLOWER SHOP, Arcade Bldg., 515 N. Main. This hustling downtown flower market is strutting its new fall tussery of double and single, midget and giant asters, marigolds, chrysanthemums—"Big Mums" and many another gay autumn flower. Flowers are new with each new season, let their names be as old as creation.

MARSHALL DRAPERY CO, 2nd Santa Ana Bldg., B'way at 2nd. Don't imagine you can overlook the house in all this scramble for new fall "clothes." MARSHALL makes it easy on you and your pocketbook, with fascinating materials at encouraging prices. Phone 23, and let Marshall, the Drapery Man come to see you in his portable show room of samples for re-draping the modern home in the latest fashion. It's factory to you prices with a small percentage on draperies of all kinds purchased from Marshall. The display of new fall draperies in Marshall's downtown show windows is attracting more than usual attention. You can see samples of these materials in your own home by phoning 23.

THE BAND BOX GIFT SHOP, 1164 E. Fourth. Something for some one? - - - you'll find it at the "Band Box" - - - A new shipment of genuine imported Italian pottery will answer many a quest. French perfume in high-tone packages at an exceedingly reasonable price! The famous Shall-Jolon and Jadol-Jolon.

SUPERIOR SCHOOL OF BEAUTY, 4104 N. Main. Student work at the SUPERIOR continues to draw its full reward of praise for careful, competent operation. Permanents costing $1.00, $1.35, $1.50 and Combination waves, $2.00, are growing in popularity daily at the Superior School, because of the added attraction of a FREE haircut, shampoo and three months' FREE care. All students are closely supervised by expert instructor during wrapping and steaming processes. Phone 284 for appointment.

HI-HI TAVERN, 4 miles south of Laguna Beach, on Coast highway. Have you been to the "HI-HI"? Well you haven't been anywhere at all—nor seen anything scenically speaking. The HI-HI Tavern overlooks the Coast Highway's most scenic beach, and the feed they give you at popular prices makes a habit of you and your guests for the rest of the time. It's different. The kind of different that is different in management and cuisine, and it's a great treat to motor, or fly, or walk, according to where you're stationed, to the HI-HI these moonlight evenings.

TURNEY'S FLIKIL—Buy it at Grocery, Drug, Hardware Stores, Orange County. Santa Anas and vicinity, probably don't realize how lucky they are in having FLIKIL, the deadliest of all insecticides, manufactured and distributed at a nominal cost when they need a household remedy for insects of all kinds, particularly mosquitoes, flies, fleas, ants, mites, roaches, etc. We've just heard of a certain town in another state where the roaches are taking over the apartment houses regardless of the frantic efforts of the owners and tenants. Every kind of insecticide known to the state has been used to no apparent success. FLIKIL has not spread itself to that district as yet, but we can state unreservedly that roaches do not flourish where FLIKIL is used in California. It "Kills 'Em Dead" and keeps 'em away with a few sprayings weekly.

EDICT AGAINST GAS STATIONS ISSUED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 7.—(UP)—Gasoline service stations can no longer advertise "gas" for sale. In an edict issued by J. S. Casey, chief of the state division of weights and measures, all service stations, garages and other public places advertising the sale of "gas" must spell the designation "gasoline" out in full, otherwise they are breaking the law and will be proceeded against.

Casey also stated that retail distributors of gasoline are being warned that they must place the name of the brand in their advertising matter, except where no

National Forests Are Most Popular

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (UP)—California's national forests are the most popular in the United States. According to a federal report on file in the state department of natural resources, national forests in California were visited by 17,454,748 persons last year.

As compared to this recreational use of the forests, Arizona had 2,815,534 visitors to its national forests, Colorado, 2,265,071, and Oregon, 1,652,000.

It is estimated that all such federal areas were visited by 22,255,613 persons, a record total.

CHEST PRESIDENT EXPLAINS LIMITED SCOPE OF BUDGET ADOPTED FOR YEAR'S WORK

No activity able to pay its own way will be subsidized through the Community Chest during the coming year, according to chest officials, and every social service and welfare project included within the coming fund appeal will be of such a nature as to directly serve either those in distress or the needs which affect the wellbeing of the community.

Officials declare that the carrying out of this policy in making up the $53,000 agency budget which now constitutes the goal of the fall campaign, means that every citizen who can possibly contribute will have ample justification in so doing even though he or she has to make personal sacrifices to do so.

"In place of the public subscriptions to the chest agencies acting as a subsidy to activities enjoyed by those able to pay for them, a study of the financial set-up demonstrates that this year many essential service projects will be made available not alone through pledges to the chest, but because they are in part paid for through charges and memberships carried by persons interested in other activities of our member organizations," says W. J. Tway, president of the chest.

Stress on Relief

"The fact is that our budget committee and board of directors has made a mighty thorough study of every item allowed to go into agency budgets for the coming year. We have kept constantly before us the fact that there are hundreds of children, men and women who must look to the relief and welfare agencies of the Chest this winter for their very means of existence, so that while we have not neglected other activities which are vital to the sort of community in which we live, we have laid the real stress upon the certain and immediate relief needs."

Tway declared that with the program of work as set up, the community is not only assured a well rounded project, but also one which will do everything possible to eliminate duplication of effort and assure the maximum tangible aid to those in distress.

"The welfare situation here is especially a Santa Ana family affair," the Chest president said. "The folks who will be helped through funds subscribed in the campaign are really our own neighbors for the most part—the sort of children we can be proud of; men who under normal circumstances would be working right along with us, and women who are fine mothers and good citizens."

Need Sincere Help
"These fellow citizens of ours who are in distress, are looking to us to see them through, and those of us who are giving of our time and effort in this undertaking are certain that Santa Ana will not fail to give a hand. They have been putting up a mighty fine battle with all odds against them, and with the trend of things on the upgrade, all they need is the sincere help of those of us who have not had as hard a time."

The Community Chest president declares that service reports of the welfare agencies demonstrate that the best way to help is to do so through the recognized agencies. It is pointed out that where the giving of a specific sum of money by an individual directly to persons in distress helps, that the same amount given through a chest agency will go several times as far in relieving difficulties.

As an instance of the manner in which a given amount will go further when handled through Chest agencies, it is pointed out that thousands upon thousands of meals have been provided through such agencies as the Salvation Army, by food supplies from the unemployed relief and other agencies. Had the same amount of money as was involved in supplying these meals, been expended through individuals for those in distress, it is said that only about one-fourth the relief could have been provided.

Need Increased Gifts
The agency service reports further bring out that a great many of the people who are being assisted would not call upon individuals for assistance, no matter how great their need. This means that the Chest welfare agencies are able to help them without tearing down their self respect and courage, it is said.

"If every citizen could go behind the scenes with us and see what the work is accomplishing and how truly great the need is, there would not be a question but that the chest campaign goal would be greatly oversubscribed," Tway said. "Those of us who have any sort of employment, income, savings or other reserves are so much better off than the thousands to be aided through the community social service and welfare program, that it should be unthinkable that we would refuse

Business Recovery Reflected In Air Travel Increases

Business continues its upward trend, according to transportation increases announced today by H. W. Beck, traffic manager for Transcontinental and Western Air. The gains are enlightening since it now is known that air travel quickly reacts to the combination of present-day commercial results and outlook for the near future.

"Passengers on our transcontinental route between Los Angeles and New York increased 23 percent during August over the record-breaking previous month," said Beck, "and an 11 percent gain for the same period is recorded for the Los Angeles to San Francisco division."

"The number of passengers over the entire system for August of this year is about 10 percent greater than August of last year," continued Beck. "Two interesting facts are that 32 percent of those carried this year are women and 21 percent of all passengers are travelling round trip tickets."

"Another interesting development is that our Hollywood office during August had the largest gross business for any one month since it was first established almost five years ago by the old Maddux Air Lines."

PRESIDENTIAL POLL BALLOTS HERE SOON

The largest presidential poll ever conducted, comprising over 20,000,000 individual ballots mailed throughout the entire United States, is now being undertaken by The Literary Digest.

Santa Ana's first allotment of ballots in this pre-election referendum has been mailed already from poll headquarters in New York, according to advice received here today, and should be distributed by the local post office within a few days.

This is the third large presidential poll conducted by The Literary Digest and the result of each have been substantiated by the official election returns with over 95 percent accuracy, according to statistics released on the prior polls.

To guard against tampering, fraud and counterfeiting, a specially manufactured cardboard is used for printing the ballot, according to the sponsors.

Know what "aeroplane performance" means!

One tank-full of "FLYING A" will convince you that there is a big difference in gasoline. You feel the difference.

This new Aero-type Gasoline brings you a new sensation in motoring—the feel of flying power. It gives you aero-plane performance in your car. The tough hills that pulled you down, the occasional stuttering get-away—these vanish. Highways become airways with "FLYING A." You have flying power—smooth, constant, never failing.

And there's a very good reason for this "aero-plane performance." "FLYING A" has the same octane stability required in the finest aviation gasoline. It holds its flying power under every driving and weather condition. It is anti-knock no matter how hard or fast you drive.

Give wings to your car, old or new, with a tank-full of "FLYING A" Gasoline from the smiling

Associated Service-man at the red, green and cream "FLYING A" pump.

4 Exclusive Developments

1. Octane stability—sustained anti-knock performance no matter how hard or fast you drive.
2. Heart-cut of the crude, only vital gasoline fractions retained.
3. Equi-fractionating process, to assure Starting, Pick-up, Power, Speed and Mileage; not just one alone.
4. Climatically Correct, in accord with weather conditions where and when you buy it.

The diamond-painted pumps offer Associated Ethyl Gasoline with "FLYING A" as a base.

STRATOSPHERE FLIERS EXHAUSTED

Returning from the sub-zero temperatures of the stratosphere into the intense heat of an Italian day, Professor Auguste Piccard and his assistant, Max Cosyns, were temporarily overcome when they landed at Cavallaro Di Monzambano after their record-breaking balloon journey into the "upper skies." Piccard (at left) and Cosyns are seen here, outstretched upon the ground beside the spherical metal cabin which had carried them to an altitude never before attained by a living thing. The aluminum ball was badly dented as it bumped along the ground after descending, but none of the Belgian scientists' precious instruments was damaged.

Olive Ranney, Mary E. Safley, Mrs. Evangeline Stark.

FIRST RAIN TO ARRIVE ABOUT SEPTEMBER 25

The rainy season in Orange county will start this year around September 25, nearly a month later than last year, according to predictions made by Martin G. Murray, of the Huntington Beach post office. Murray, well known as an amateur weather prophet, made good his predictions last year, according to officials of the Farm Bureau.

Murray says the first good rain of the season will start about September 25, and until March the rains will likely be scattered and light. The periods for March 17 and 23 should be heavy, and it is expected that the county will receive rain from about 14 of the 18 storm periods from September 25 to May 10, he said.

The dates Murray gives which follow, indicate the "middle" of storm periods, that is, a rain may reach here a day or two before or after the date given. The dates started are likely to be preceded by a hot, dry, northeasterly wind, he said.

For 1932: September 10, September 25, October 8, October 22, November 1*, November 15, November 28*, December 13, December 26*. For 1933: January 10, January 24*, February 21*, March 5, March 17*, March 28, April 12, April 26, May 10, May 23, June 7, June 21, June 25, July 19, August 1, August 15 and August 30.

Storm periods average about seven days in length and the forces in nature which cause these periodic increases in storm activity come into effect gradually and with varying intensities, according to Murray. "To predict the intensity of storms a year in advance is most difficult, and although 100 per cent correct in my prediction for three years previous, it will require a number of years to prove this phase of my theory," he said.

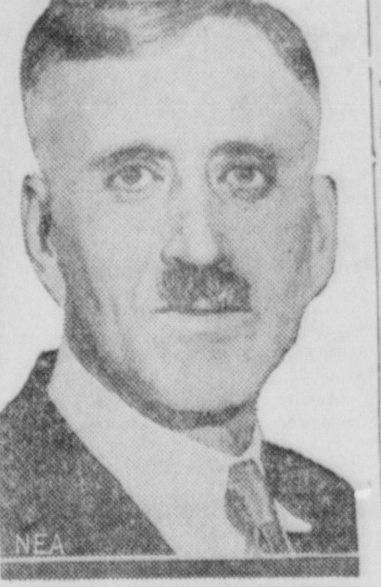

17 rain dates he predicted last season, 14 were correct, he pointed out.

IN RESPONSE, Frank Rosapaw, publisher of the paper, said he investigated and found posting such notices on posters was illegal, in response to which S. James Tuffree declared that "it isn't surprising no action was taken regarding it, is it, when the district attorney had his posters posted on the same posts?"

McFadden also called attention to the fact that the Register published a criticism made by J. A. Vye, on the money spent for advertising by the county advertising manager, and published a facsimile of an advertisement that ran in a Los Angeles paper announcing the Newport Beach tournament of Lights after it was over, and said that the Register failed to tell that only part of the issue carried that advertisement, and that it was not run in that form in the complete issue.

ANOTHER GHOST IS REPORTED AT PLACENTIA

Another ghost has shown up at Placentia, according to reports to police, in the home of Mike George Placentia merchant, who resides in the La Jolla district, across from the La Jolla school.

Whether it is the same ghost that bothered at the Joe Tafolla home on Crowther avenue until the family moved out, and the neighbors also, and until the police nailed up the windows and doors of the house to keep the hundreds of curiosity seekers from carrying the house away, or another, is the question.

George declares the tapings and other ghostly rappings and proings have been bothering him more than a year, but that they have become so troublesome he has felt justified in telling about it.

According to George, this particular visitor tells him where to go to dig for treasure and gold, and gives him much advice.

COUNCIL MEET POSTPONED FOR QUORUM LACK

Because no quorum was present, there was no meeting of the city council last night, as planned.

The council failed to hold its regular meeting due Monday night. Only Councilmen E. G. Warner and William Penn appeared for the meeting however, so City Clerk Ed Vegely declared no meeting. As the councilmen were leaving the room, Mayor Paul Wittmer appeared but too late, as the meeting had been called off and an official record made stating next Monday night as the next meeting of the board.

Councilman A. G. Hasenjaeger is out of the city, and Councilman J. L. McBride did not appear at all.

2 Escape Serious Injuries As Auto Falls Into Ditch

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 7.—A. Menning and Miss Mickey Stewart, both of Los Angeles, narrowly escaped serious injuries here when the auto in which they were riding, driven by Menning, turned turtle immediately east of the Arches, throwing both occupants out, scratching and bruising them so that they had to be taken to the Newport Beach hospital for treatment.

The accident happened when the machine was forced off the highway, the wheels dropping into a sandy gutter.

Couple Return From Honeymoon to Make
Surprise Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Smith (Mignonette Swales) who were married at Carmel last month returned to this city Monday evening for a surprise visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Swales.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who have been motoring in the north since their wedding, remained for dinner with Mrs. Smith's family, returning yesterday to Los Angeles. They are expected to remain out of town until early next week.

Return From Sierras
Marked by Trout
Dinner

Golden mountain trout, brought home from the High Sierras by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Watkins were served in tempting style to guests who attended a dinner party given last night in their home, 815 North Sycamore street.

The dinner was served at an attractively appointed table decorated with black. Guests spent the evening hours enjoying informal sessions of bridge.

Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boquist, Mr. and Mrs. Farley Hornbeck of this city; Mr. and Mrs. George Goodwin of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Frost and Mrs. Frances Hager of Huntington Beach and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins spent 15 days in the High Sierras, camping at Rock Creek lake, 12,000 feet high. They spent much of the time hiking, and as the dinner party indicates, proved to be successful at trout fishing.

Scout Troop Home From Camping Expedition

YOU and your Friends

Miss Vivian Rogers, 1104 North Sycamore street, has been enjoying a visit from Miss Billie Brooke of Whittier, formerly of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herrington of this city spent the past week end in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Tuttle (Adelaide Spencer) of San Diego made a trip to Santa Ana this week end to visit Mrs. Tuttle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer, 2351 North Park boulevard.

Mrs. William H. Spurgeon Jr. and children, William and Sherrill, returned yesterday to their home at 1617 North Main street after a month's vacation on Catalina Island.

Mr. Spurgeon made the trip to the island this week end, returning with his family. The Spurgeons were accompanied by Miss Virginia Parker of San Marino, who will be their houseguest for a few days.

Mrs. Spurgeon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Abbott of Pomona are expected to return to the mainland tomorrow, having spent July and August at the resort.

Among Santa Ana folk who have returned from Catalina Island visits of varying duration are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brown and family, who spent a week at the resort; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whitney of San Bernardino, formerly of this city, who also were guests there for a week; and Mr. and Mrs. John Tessmann, who spent a month on the island.

Miss Olive Weger, 409 West Bishop street, who has been vacationing from time to time with her sister at Newport Beach, where the latter has had a summer cottage, has returned from a final week end at that resort, prior to resuming her duties as principal of the Spurgeon school.

Mr. A. W. Rutan, 2435 Riverside drive, has returned from a week's vacation at the resort. Mr. Rutan is a graduate of Tustin Union high school, as is his popular young bride. For the past few years she has been secretary of the Laguna Beach Lumber company. She has a host of friends in our village and in this city as well.

Friends of the young couple are planning various parties to be given in their honor shortly after their return from their honeymoon trip.

The new Mrs. Suddaby's father, Robert Messinger, is a musician of note, having played with the court symphony orchestra in Berkeley, the Danrosch orchestra in New York and was for several years a member of the John Philip Sousa organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Brisco and children, Barbara Anne and Charles Chester Jr., have just returned to their home at 421 East Bishop street following a vacation stay of five or six days at their cabin in Big Bear valley. Week end visitors in the Brisco cabin were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rogers of Orange and children, Beverly and Tommy.

Mr. and Mrs. Errol Barnes, 1114 South Birch street, enjoyed a recent visit to Yucapac with Mr. Barnes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilmore.

Mrs. W. A. West and daughter, Mrs. W. H. West, West Seventeenth street, went to San Fernando government hospital this morning to take 70 boxes of home-made candy, cookies, jelly and magazines to the inmates of wards 5 and 6. Mrs. West is chairman of war veterans for the county federation of Women's clubs.

Popular Young Couple
Married at Quiet
Ceremony

Married yesterday morning at a beautifully simple ceremony performed in the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church of this city, Miss Doris Messinger of Laguna Beach and Cecil Suddaby of Lemon Heights today were traveling northward on their honeymoon trip.

Present at the quiet ceremony were Miss Messinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Messinger and their son-in-law, R. W. Peacock of Laguna Beach; and Mr. Suddaby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Suddaby of Lemon Heights.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the bridegroom is a member, officiated. The young couple took their places before Mr. McFarland unattended.

The bride was very lovely in a roushara crepe ensemble in the deep wine tone so popular for early autumn wear. Her hat and other costume details were in the same hue. Complementing her charming appearance was a floral corsage of snowy gardenias, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern.

Although the new Mr. and Mrs. Suddaby left the parsonage almost immediately for the W. S. Suddaby home at Lemon Heights, to make last minute preparations for traveling, the guests were able to speed their departure by showing them with rice.

The bride donned a traveling costume in blue wool, and she and Mr. Suddaby left by automobile for Yosemite and other points of interest. They expect to return home in about two weeks. Their home is to be established in Santa Ana in the near future.

Mr. Suddaby will resume his duties at Smart and Final, of which organization his father is president and general manager. He is a graduate of Tustin Union high school, as is his popular young bride. For the past few years she has been secretary of the Laguna Beach Lumber company. She has a host of friends in our village and in this city as well.

Novel Plan Adopted
For Presenting
Bridal Gifts

In extending a postnuptial courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell C. Jaynes, whose wedding was an event of August 25, J. A. Wesley Smith of East Lammson road, Garden Grove, adopted a novel and thoroughly delightful plan for presenting shower gifts to the bride and groom.

The whole affair was arranged as a surprise, for the new Mrs. Jaynes accompanied her sister, Mrs. Marion Umphress, upon a very informal call at the Smith home, only to find a large group of friends gathered to await her arrival. The hostess had quilt pieces in readiness and the guests spent a pleasant afternoon in stitching them into blocks, each of which was embroidered with the name of its maker before being presented to the delighted honoree.

The arrival of Mr. Jaynes provided an additional surprise, not only to his bride, who was not expecting him, but to the young man himself, who fell in with the suggestion of his father, the Rev. C. E. Jaynes, to accompany him to the Smith home in the later afternoon without suspecting that a party was in progress.

Immediately the young people were provided with quaint garments of an ancient mode, handed down from the past, and sent forth to "do their shopping."

Amidst much merriment, they "purchased" from the other guests, more packages than they were able to carry in their baskets, and the next hour was given over to opening these "purchases" and examining the lovely gifts in linen, silver, china and crystal, thus received.

As a finale to the afternoon, the hostess served refreshments on trays daintily appointed in keeping with a bridal theme.

Those present in addition to the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wesley Smith, and their guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell C. Jaynes, were the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Jaynes, Mesdames Baker, E. B. Ashby, Sarah Gardner, W. A. Porter, Mattie Smith, Eva Smith, Merle Brownmiller, Perry W. Jenkins, Roy W. Jenkins, J. J. Shind, C. Hanna, Estelle Harper, Jennie Davis, W. H. Haynes, Marian McIntosh, Alice Hall, Marion Umphress, and the Misses Lottie Harper, Ethel Williamson, Pearl Smith, Alice Brownmiller, Catherine McIntosh, Faith Jenkins and Doris Jenkins.

Completing a week's automobile trip across the continent from Detroit, by the southern route, Miss Mildred Mead of 601 South Ross street, and Miss Wilma Plavan whose home is southwest of the city, arrived in Santa Ana yesterday after having spent the greater part of the summer in the east.

Miss Mead, who is principal of Lowell school, left soon after the close of school in the early summer, in company with Miss Mary Andrews, 810 South Ross street, principal of McKinley school, to take special work along educational lines at Columbia university. At the close of the course of study taken by the two local educators, Miss Andrews left for California by the water route, while Miss Mead proceeded to Detroit to join Mrs. F. D. Plavan and her daughter, Miss Wilma Plavan, the latter a member of the McKinley school staff.

Miss Mead visited Washington, D. C., and also San Francisco after leaving New York City. She and Miss Plavan left Detroit a week ago for their return to Santa Ana, Mrs. Frank D. Plavan remaining for a more extended visit in the east with another daughter, Mrs. Richard Robbins, formerly Miss Edith Plavan.

Miss Andrews and a member of her faculty, Miss Gertrude Potts, 637 North Ross street, sailed from New York on August 18 on the President Wilson enjoying the leisurely trip homeward by way of the canal. Miss Potts had gone east by rail some four weeks ago, pausing for a brief visit in Detroit en route to New York City. One of the memorable incidents of the homeward voyage was when, in coming through the canal, the Santa Ana bridge from which point they had a remarkable view of the scenic charms and splendors of the canal.

As the concluding feature of the evening, the hosts presented special gifts to the September birthday celebrants among the guests, who included in addition to their honoree, Mrs. Hein, both Mr. and Mrs. Rossett and Mr. Hein.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Hein were guests of honor at a charmingly intimate little dinner planned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brocher of Anaheim and given as one of their first social gestures since their wedding of a month ago. Mrs. Brocher was Miss Magdalena Wells of the neighboring city. In turn the Heins were dinner hosts on Tuesday evening in Long Beach, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schleuter of San Francisco.

Special B. P. W. Dinner
Will Be Served by Unemployed

Following the example set by the different men's service clubs of the city, Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club will be entertained by the Unemployed association on the occasion of the next club meeting, to be held Monday, September 12, in the association headquarters, Tenth and Main streets.

In order to have as many members present as possible, the meeting has been made an evening affair with dinner to be served at 6:30 o'clock by the association. Since it is believed that many non-members of the B. P. W. club would be interested in attending the meeting and in hearing the program in which association activities and aims will be explained followed by a tour of headquarters, the affair is being made open to the general public. It will be necessary for everyone to make reservations in advance however, and this may be done either through Mrs. Laura McNaught at the Y. M. C. A., telephone 96, or Mrs. Marie Fowler at Rankin's store, telephone 1143.

Dinner will be served at a nominal price, all proceeds to go to the unemployed.

Pears Baked and Pears Preserved

Have you ever served baked pears as a dessert? Strange as it may seem, they were new to me, and what a revelation! I promptly begged the recipe. Here it is:

Halve and core large Bartlett pears (or any good sized cooking pear) and place them skin-side down in baking pan. Scatter a cupful of sugar over, dot with tiny pieces of butter, put a cupful of hot water and the juice of one or two lemons in the pan, and over the pears sprinkle just a little ground ginger. Bake in a slow oven until tender. Serve hot with a spoonful of whipped cream for each pear.

Have you thought of putting pears up for special purpose this winter? Most delicious desserts and salads can be concocted if you employ a little forethought right now.

First, cook the pear halves in syrup until easily pierced by a fork. Fill some of the jars two-thirds full of syrup, finishing the top with Grenadine syrup. Add a few drops of fruit carmine coloring to make the pears a rose color.

These you serve on a slice of vanilla ice cream with a little of the thick syrup (boiled down and chilled) for a pear Melba.

To another jar or two or three, add a few drops of green fruit coloring and about five drops of pepper essence to each jar. A couple of long sprigs of mint in the jar will add to the flavor. Use these for salads and for serving with roast lamb or goose.

TODAY'S RECIPE
THUNDER AND LIGHTNING
CATSUP

12 large ripe tomatoes
4 sweet green peppers
1 red hot pepper
1 head celery
2 large cucumbers
4 large onions
1 cup brown sugar
3 cups vinegar
1 tablespoon paprika
1 teaspoon each, cayenne and white pepper
2 tablespoons salt

Don't ask me "Why the name?" This recipe was one I came upon not entirely by accident. It belonged to one of the grandest colored cooks that ever graced the kitchen of a young housekeeper, but she was mighty fussy about letting go any information about her choice recipes. So I made numerous excursions through the kitchen when she was making something I wanted to learn about and each time I would glimpse something to write into the recipe, gradually assembling the whole. That is how I got her famous "thunder and lightning" catsup.

The directions are very simple. Just prepare the vegetables, and run all but the tomatoes through the food chopper. Cover the ground vegetable with salt and cover with a plate. Let stand over night, then freshen the mixture, add the tomatoes, diced and put all into the hot pickling liquid.

Spices there must be, so take a half package (10 cent size) of whole pickling spices and one stick of cinnamon bark, broken in small pieces. Tie all in a bit of cheese cloth and bury in the cooking catsup. When the catsup is done the spice bag must be removed.

The cooking must be long and over a very slow fire. As the vegetables begin to cook down keep the catsup stirred frequently. It must be very smooth and thick before you bottle it.

Use it as an oyster cocktail dressing or as a relish with meats. There is nothing quite like it. It has a distinct commercial value if you choose to use it.

The civilization of ancient Rome and Greece had much to commend it; their mode of dress covered up any short comings of the figure, they ate with the Nth degree of comfort and calmness and reducing diets were unheard of.

We can't cry over that split milk, so we might just as well get down to work and make our body fit the time and mode of dress. That means waist lines, and hips must be slimmed down this fall.

How are you going to do it? Let me suggest sending me a stamped, self-addressed envelope any day this week and let me send you a copy of OVER-WEIGHT, ITS CAUSE AND CURE.

the unemployed. Reservations must be made by Saturday, as the club committee working for the success of the meeting, has to have the definite number of guests to report to the association by Monday morning at 10 o'clock. In compiling plans for the affair, the B. P. W. committee members have been assisted by the Rev. George A. Warner, representing the Unemployed association.

Silhouettes Used in Appointments for Luncheon

Silhouettes proved of special interest to members of the Merry-makers club and other friends who were guests of Mrs. Earl McBay yesterday afternoon when she entertained with a delightful luncheon in her home on Prospect avenue.

Not only did the black and white theme predominate during the luncheon itself, but immediately following guests were asked to cut silhouettes of each other. Taking Mrs. R. P. Meairs as her model, Mrs. Worth Alexander cut the shadow picture which won first prize.

For the luncheon, guests were seated at small tables brightened with orchid asters and white sweet peas. Places were marked with latest old-fashioned silhouettes. The salad, ice cream and marble cake were features of the menu which carried out the black and white motif.

In the bridge games played later in the afternoon, Mrs. Harold Moomaw and Miss Rowena Newcomb scored first and second high, receiving attractive silhouettes awards.

Guests of Mrs. McBay were Mesdames Thomas Tournal, Worth Alexander, Erna Burns, Orville Householder, Harold Smith, Thomas Smith, Marcus Lassiter, R. P. Meairs, Frank Dane, Kenneth King, E. D. Boynton, Harold Moomaw, N. E. Watson and Miss Rowena Newcomb of this community and Mrs. Vincenta Carleton of Anaheim.

Clarence Ranney to Leave Tomorrow
For East

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ranney (Ruth Mettler) were concluding a brief visit with Mr. Ranney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ranney of 2321 North Park boulevard, today prior to departing tomorrow morning for the east. The newlyweds spent several days in Los Angeles following their marriage in that city Friday night, before returning to Orange county to take final leave of Mr. Ranney's parents and of his bride's friends in Fullerton.

Traveling by motor, Mr. and Mrs. Ranney will make their way east via Yellowstone National park, Lewiston, Mont., former home of the latter, and Pittsburgh, arriving finally in Ithaca, N. Y., seat of Cornell university.

Mr. Ranney anticipates another two years at the eastern college before completing his preparation for work as a veterinary surgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranney anticipate a visit to Orange county next summer during the university vacation period.

Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

City Council Prepares For New Salary Reductions

SPECIAL BOARD SESSION HELD NEXT MONDAY

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—In an executive session of the city council yesterday afternoon, tentative plans were made for the reduction of a number of salaries of city employees to meet the requirement of the new budget adopted the latter part of the month. The reductions are to be announced at a special meeting of the council to be held Monday at 1 p.m.

Salaries in all departments were cut from five to 30 per cent early this summer. Employees who are to receive further cuts will be determined between the present time and Monday as the matter is to receive careful study and consideration by council members.

A resolution was adopted reducing the salaries of the desk sergeant and the city statistician to $100 per month, to take effect September 1. W. W. Herrington was appointed city statistician. Miss Sarah Collins held the position temporarily until the appointment was made.

Mrs. Emma V. Pruitt, city water collector, asked for a leave of absence for one or two weeks this fall. The request was granted and Mrs. Wilma Barger was appointed to take Mrs. Pruitt's place during her absence at the same salary.

The council received a request from the A. J. Goodlin company, of San Francisco, signed by Hal Sackett, former resident of Orange, to consider a plan for a proposed survey of the lighting system. No action was taken.

Insurance for the city cars was awarded to Paul G. Muench for public liability and property damage for two fire trucks, three trucks, one motorcycle and six pleasure cars. The insurance on these vehicles came to $344.18 and the sum of $36.40 was the premium for public liability on private cars driven by city employees.

making the total $443.14. The Orange County Automobile club of Santa Ana, through C. H. Jeffry, submitted a similar bid with a similar premium.

A communication was read by the city clerk T. H. Elljah, calling attention to the fact that the League of Municipalities of California was to meet in a convention at San Diego September 26, 27, 28 and 29. By a unanimous vote of the council, City Attorney Harry L. Dearing was appointed to represent the city of Orange at the meeting and the sum of $25 was allowed for expenses.

School Teachers Dinner Guests In Batterman Home

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—An annual affair was held last night when members of the faculty of St. John's Parochial school were guests at a lovely dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. William Batterman, who entertained in their home on North Main street. Mr. Batterman is beginning his 30th year as principal of the school.

Dinner was served early in the evening at a dining room table centered with a bouquet of orchid and yellow pompon dahlias and lighted with tall pink tapers. Flowers used in decorating the living room were in pink and white. The evening was spent socially.

In the group were Paul Hedder, who teaches the sixth and part of the seventh grades; J. J. Troester, third and part of the fourth grade; E. E. Wunderlich, fifth and part of the fourth grade; Mrs. Eda Gorath, first and second grades; and Mrs. Hedder, Mrs. Troester, Mrs. Wunderlich, Miss Katherine Gorath and Mr. and Mrs. Batterman.

Two Hunters In Court Thursday

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—R. H. Barton and J. M. Foullet, of Long Beach, put up cash bonds yesterday in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze to appear in court Thursday at 10 a. m. on charges of trespassing. The two men are alleged to have been shooting dove in Santiago canyon.

HOLD FUNERAL OF MRS. MARY NEWELL

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ellen Newell, 79, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the C. W. Coffey funeral chapel. The Rev. L. V. Lucas, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated.

Miss Mary Kimball sang "Some-time We'll Understand" and "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me." Mrs. Hazel Nuffer accompanied her.

Funeralbearers were O. U. Hull, C. F. Pine, Fred Bebermeyer, W. E. Gorton, Earl Eleon and D. E. Claypool. Interment was at Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Newell, a native of Ohio, had made her home in Orange for the past 19 years, coming here from Boulder, Colo. She passed away at her home, 424 East Almond avenue, where she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Morgan. She was a member of the Methodist church of this city.

Surviving Mrs. Newell are her daughter, Mrs. Morgan, and three sons, Earl C. Newell, of Monroes, Wash.; Bert L. Newell, Baker, Ore.; John N. Newell, Conrad, Mont., a sister, Mrs. Adeline Cornburn, of Port Lupton, Colo.; 11 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Minnie Gilman and son, Leland, South Orange street, have returned from Santa Barbara, where they spent the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Benson, 310 East Walnut avenue, had as recent dinner guests, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gregory and children, Constance and Billy, of Glendale.

Lorenz G. Troest of this city spent a few days at San Diego recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pitcher and son, Laurence, 202 South Cambridge street, are spending this week at Lake Elsinore.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Brown and family of Porterville are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Carr, 221 South Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hampton, 227 North Orange street, have returned from Laguna Beach, where they spent the past two months at their cottage. Among those entertained by the Hamptons during their stay were Mrs. Mae Hotchkiss and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Watkins, of Chicago, Ill., and the Misses Della and Louisa Hampton of Santa Ana.

Overton Luhr, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Luhr, 260 South Shaffer street, and Norris Bradbury of Fontana, are en route to Massachusetts Institute of Technology to do research work. Mr. Luhr taught and did research work in physics at the institute last year. He is driving by way of Berkeley to visit with a former professor at the University of California, continuing from there to Reno, Nev., and Salt Lake.

Concluding an extensive two months' tour of the east by automobile, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McCandless, 230 South Shaffer street, returned home recently. They spent much of their time in Colorado, where they visited their former home at Denver. In Craig and Wellington, Colo., they were guests of their son, Dr. L. S. McCandless, and of their daughter, Mrs. William Hauptli. The return trip was made by way of Reno, Nev., and Lake Tahoe. They stopped at Sacramento and at San Jose and visited with Mrs. McCandless' sister, Mrs. A. D. Manley.

Lorena Joyce Conkle, 19, of Orange and Francis R. Byron, 23, of Fullerton, have been granted a marriage license in San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Slater and daughter and son, Helen and Monte, 715 East Walnut avenue, have gone to Santa Paula to make their home. Mr. Slater has been transferred from the Los Angeles to the Santa Paula offices of the California Fruit Growers' exchange. During their 10-year residence in Orange, Mr. Slater has been active in various organizations, including the American Legion. Mrs. Slater has been a member of the Legion auxiliary and of the Orange Woman's club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swayze, 213 South Glassell street, have as guests Mrs. Swayze's mother and daughter, Mrs. Mary Brown and Miss Lila Erbenbraut of Minneapolis, Kans. They plan to remain in Orange for the next year, as Miss Erbenbraut expects to enter Santa Ana junior college.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stade and daughter, Dorothy, 142 North Cambridge street, have returned from a trip to Fairmont, Minn., and Iowa, where they visited with relatives.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Madie Hanger of this city, who has been in the east for some time, will not return home for about two months. She is spending some time in Chicago, and from there plans to go to Grand Island, Neb. She has been visiting in Ohio, where she formerly made her home at West Liberty.

49 BABIES AT CLINIC
ORANGE, Sept. 7.—The largest number of babies to visit the well baby clinic this summer were registered at the clinic yesterday afternoon, 49 being present. Last week 47 were registered, according to Miss Vena Jones, county nurse in charge.

BOARD ACCEPTS AUDIT MADE OF CITY'S BOOKS

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—Action was taken yesterday at the meeting of the council to accept the city audit prepared by Charles L. Barkdull of Santa Ana. A motion was entertained instructing the city attorney to prepare a claim against the American Surety company, of Los Angeles, based on this audit. The claim, it is understood will cover the shortage occasioned by the defalcation of the former city clerk, amounting to $321.15.

Books of other departments, it was revealed by the audit, were in perfect condition. The audit was made at a cost of $249. The motion to start action against the surety company was made by Councilman Edgar M. Chapman and was seconded by Councilman Ben Dierker.

Attention was called to the danger occasioned by trucks backing out of the recently opened alley between the plaza square and East Almond street. Following a discussion as to whether it would be advisable to make the alley a one-way passage, it was decided to leave the matter as it is at present as there is plenty of room for trucks to park and to pass, it was brought out. Steps to prevent trucks backing into the plaza, are to be taken.

There are about 2,100 miles of canals in the United States.

Electric company, was awarded the contract of keeping the city supplied with lights for the period of a year at $300 a year. It was reported that 10 lights had been replaced in the past 17 days. By an action of the council, the water department was given charge of replacing the lights and A. G. Elmspar, meter reader of the water department, is to have charge of washing and replacing the lights. W. J. Richardson of the water department was given authority to have a platform rigged on a small car in order to facilitate the work. Records are to be kept of lights replaced.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Sept. 7.—Miss Mildred Moore has returned from a visit with friends at Santa Maria and Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bricke and son, Billy, spent Sunday in Los Angeles in the home of Mr. Bricke's brother, Alois Bricke, and family.

Miss Marjorie Groover, of Costa Mesa, spent Sunday with friends here.

Phillip Witman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Witman, whose home is in Cuba, has arrived to spend two months with his parents. Mr. Witman was accompanied by a friend, J. T. Pand.

An old fashioned ice cream social will be held Friday evening on the lawn of the parsonage. Outdoor games will be played and home made ice cream and cake will be served. The social is sponsored by the members of the Woman's Missionary society.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Seeley and little son, Donald, of La Jolla, have returned home after spending a week in the home of Mr. Seeley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brubaker, of North Prospect avenue.

S. F. MAGAZINE ASKS DATA ON FLOWER PLAN

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—The beauty of the parkings which have lined with flame colored bloom the four main-traveled roads leading into the city of Orange this summer, has reached the city of San Francisco, Gordon Whitnall, editor of the official magazine of the League of Municipalities, has written to members of the city council here to ask how the plan for planting and caring for the parkings had come about and how it was carried out.

The information, the letter stated, was desired as the foundation for an article for the league's magazine. Mr. Whitnall wrote that the beauty of the parkings had reached San Francisco from a number of sources and that he had driven through the city when in Southern California especially to see them.

T. H. Elljah, city clerk, reported that about $75 a month had been the cost to the city for taking care of the flowers, the project having originated in the garden section of the Women's club under the direction of Mrs. Irving Goldfeder. The move to beautify the city then became a project sponsored by the entire club and later the city took it over.

There are about 2,100 miles of canals in the United States.

Police Puzzled By Copper Found In Vacant House

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—Orange police are still mystified as to what use the copper coil plates which were left behind at 117 South Pixley street by departing tenants, were put before they were cut in five and six inch lengths.

The copper, about 60 pounds in all, most of it cut up, was found by George Balkeld, 686 West Chapman avenue, owner of the Pixley street property. The uncut plates are about 18 inches long, about a foot across, and are oval in shape with a hole in the center. Electricians in the city have been unable to aid police in identifying them but it is thought they were used in condensers in power lines or plants.

Club Delegates Off For Yosemite

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—Leaving here this afternoon delegates from the Orange Business and Professional Women's club and en route to Yosemite National park to attend the state convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, to be in session Friday and Saturday.

In the group were Miss Adelaide Proctor, new president of the local club; Iva J. Lee, of this city, county president; Miss Gertrude Kianer, an alternate and Mrs. J. R. Porter. Mrs. Porter took the delegates in her automobile. They expect to return home Sunday. Miss Proctor reports that the

PETITION ASKS RELIEF FROM NIGHT NOISES

ORANGE, Sept. 7.—The Orange city council was petitioned yesterday to take action which would relieve residents of West Chapman avenue living in the vicinity of the Chastain Transfer and Moving company, from nocturnal disturbances caused by the unloading of goods at the company's office at 512 West Chapman avenue by the Triangle Express.

Ben Brock, 536 West Chapman avenue, presented the petition to the council and declared that owing to the activities of the truck drivers of the Triangle Express, it was impossible to more than snatch fitful naps throughout the night. He claimed that the district was a residential one and that if the noises were not abated, he would be obliged to move from the home he has occupied for more than 20 years.

City Attorney Harry L. Dearing was instructed by Mayor Clyde A. Watson to write letters to the two companies. The petition was signed by Ben Brock, G. B. Balkeld, Mary L. Spicer, Hilda Marsh, N. L. Jones, Mrs. Allie Brock and Mrs. Mary Hutchins, all residents of the district.

main business to be taken up by the council will be a vote on merging of the B. and P. W. with the League of Women.

WINTER—is on the way!

It won't be long now until the biting cold of winter evenings sweeps through Southern California.

Overcoats and warm wraps will be needed for evening calls.

The damp chill from our seasonal rains may bring good cheer to our ranchers but it will also bring discomfort inside those homes which lack the modern necessity of adequate heat.

Are YOU ready? Is your HOME ready?

NOW is the time to think about it.

Beginning today we are glad to announce that a special purchase plan for Payne furnaces has been put into effect for the convenience of those who use natural gas—the modern fuel.

For a limited time you may have your choice of the many models of this modern heating equipment—either through this company or any Payne dealer—on a deferred payment purchase plan, with unusually liberal terms. Inquire tomorrow. By this special plan, you may get your furnace NOW and have it all ready to serve you when cold weather comes. "Pay later"—that is a convenient phase of the new plan.

Don't permit your family to dress and undress in cold bedrooms—there's a risk in that, much more vital than the discomfort. Bath rooms, too, should be heated.

Keep your living room comfortably warm if you want an atmosphere of happiness at home so important in any family circle. Your family deserves this comfort, their health demands it, and, with natural gas heat so clean, so dependable and so economical, you should plan now to have it this winter.

Be modern... Just press a button for instant heat.

THE TINYMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

As all the blockheads formed in line to make a stairway, they looked fine. "Look at their legs," was Scouty's cry. "Gee, some are stretched way out."

"I'd hate to have my legs that way. Real short I hope that mine will stay. I wish we really knew just what this stairway's all about."

"Just wait until you run up high and finally stand out in the sky," replied one of the blockheads. "Say, you'd better start to climb."

"The other Tummies will leave you behind and that would never do. Right now they're on their merry way. You're losing lots of time."

So Scouty followed all the rest. Said he, "I'll do my very best to stay right on the stairway and not topple to the ground."

"You blockheads wobble to and fro and it is rather hard to go. And, also, I get dizzy when I start to look around."

"Oh, run ahead and get your thrill. We're trying hard to stand real still," replied one of the blockheads. "Hurry up, before we flop. Our legs, you know, are very thin. They're longer than they've ever been. We, frankly, will be tickled when you Tummies reach the top."

So Scouty did his very best to run real fast. He reached the rest and soon another Tiny cried, "We're on the top step, now."

"A new adventure soon will start 'cause right from here's where we depart. The blockheads said we'd sail away, but I am wondering how."

Just then they heard a swishing sound. A great big basket whirled around and stopped right by the top step. "Hop in it," a blockhead cried.

The Tummies thought it would be fun, so two or three said than done. "I have a hunch," said Scouty, "that we'll have a dandy ride." (Copyright, 1932, NEA Service, Inc.)

(The Tummies hook on to a shooting star in the next story.)

THE GIRLS AVER FOREIGN BECALL OLDEN NATIONS LEAD DAYS OF CITY IN ATHLETICS

ANAHEIM, Sept. 7.—Celebrating the Diamond Jubilee the members of the Young Ladies Institute of St. Boniface Catholic church held a "Coffee Klatch" last evening at the home of Francis Backs, president and the native daughters in the organization were hostesses each wearing a costume that belonged to the cities original settlers.

Miss Alice Grimsbach, a native daughter told the story of Anaheim since 1857.

Sunflowers were used for decorations and the tables were set with white porcelain cake plates and footed compotes, red checkered tablecloths and the rooms were lighted with coal oil lamps.

Miss Backs received the members in a white brocade satin evening gown and carried a fan, both of which have been in her family for more than 50 years.

During the business meeting that preceded the entertainment Clara Faust was elected to fill the vacancy of organist created by the resignation of Winifred Semons.

On Saturday and Sunday, September 10 and 11 a week and house party will be held at the home of Mayme McDonald at 215 Island avenue, Balboa. Reservations must be made with Frances Backs.

Carrying out the theme of the "Four Great Races" the program committee will present "The Red Race" and "The Black Race" with his group of entertainers at the next meeting. The program will be opened to the public and a nominal fee will be charged. Chief Standing Bear is the author of the book, "My People, The Sioux" and took part in the picture, "The Vanishing American." The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock.

The past president's club will meet on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mae Lee-Vecke, 216 North Helena street to make plans for the year. The dramatic committee will meet with Beryl Kennedy tonight to complete plans for the bi-centennial program on October 4.

SAVING IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

ANAHEIM, Sept. 7.—Speaking on the many racket attempts in Orange county, appeared yesterday before the members of the Kiwanis club at their luncheon held at the Elks clubhouse and stated that the most recent attempt on the part of the gangsters has been to organize barbers of the county by making them pay $5 per chair for "protection."

He said that a meeting will be held tomorrow night by the barbers to consider plans for entering the proposed racket and that he and other representatives will be present.

Playing the people for permitting Communism in its midst the speaker declared that, from reliable information, he learned that the bonus army was instigated by the Communists.

Mrs. Sally Lee Scales of Santa Ana sang a group of songs accompanied at the piano by Miss Katherine Stewart. The speaker was introduced by Floyd McCracken. The Rev. Ray C. Harker, pastor of the White Temple Methodist Episcopal church was received as a new member.

START REGISTRY AT HIGH SCHOOL

ANAHEIM, Sept. 7.—With this week bringing thoughts of school bells seniors registered yesterday afternoon at the Anaheim Union high school and will begin classes next Monday when the first general assembly will also be held. Of the 109 students who registered yesterday a few were from classes other than the senior group. More seniors are expected to register during the week. Last year the number of seniors graduated were 132 and this year's class is expected to equal it according to reports from the business office.

The first faculty meeting was held in the morning and Miss Mary Jane Van Booven was elected president. Paul Demaree was elected treasurer. Tentative plans were discussed for the opening weeks and a picnic or party will be held sometime during the fall.

This morning the Junior groups registered and this afternoon the sophomore groups were registered. Tomorrow will be devoted to the freshmen and new students and the "Big Sister Little Sister" party will be given as a get-acquainted measure.

Anaheim Police News

ANAHEIM, Sept. 7.—Joe Morales of 1018 Pat street was given a $25 suspended fine for intoxication yesterday morning in the recorder's court.

A. Ballesteros forfeited his $25 bail yesterday when he failed to show up in the recorder's court on a charge of intoxication. His companion, P. A. Munes, of 430 Walnut street, Placentia, was given a $25 fine or 12 to 14 days in the county jail. He was committed to jail yesterday afternoon.

Joe Warren, Anaheim resident, was brought into the police department yesterday afternoon when he was found staggering on the streets. He was charged with intoxication.

Jack Wright, halfback, and Ender, full, other candidates enlisting were for the backfield, Jack Fredericks, "Bono" Koral, Paul Haupt, Wally Smith, Bill Campbell, Herb Hastrop; and for the line, Bob Hafer, Harold Christensen Rhodes Finley, Rodney Wood, Harold Benson, Charles Rowden, Charles McFarland, Carl Bower and Roy Nozomy.

Practice will be held daily at 8 o'clock, on East Poly field.

HITLER BEING DEFLATED

It looks as if Hitler in Germany has shot his bow. When he runs up against Von Papen and Von Schleicher, he is running up against the conservative element which hitherto has been the source of his strength. Without the wholehearted support of the Nationalists, the Monarchists, and the young nobility, Hitler's power must disappear.

There are two very great differences between the Hitler movement in Germany and the Fascist movement in Italy,—so often classed together. In the first place, the German people differ radically from the Italian people. The German people, in spite of their respect for authority, do a great deal of thinking for themselves. They are very much less emotional than the Italians. Besides, conditions in Germany and in Italy are nothing alike. In the second place, Hitler and Mussolini are two entirely different types of men. Mussolini is a bull dog. He has the arrogance of Hitler, but it is an arrogance that dares. Hitler has done a great deal of talking; but he has been hesitant about striking a blow anywhere. He still hopes to gain the ends of his movement by parliamentary methods. These methods Mussolini threw out of the windows at the time he chucked the elected Italian deputies out of the windows.

Fascism may get hold of Italy, as Communism got hold of Russia. But when it strikes for power in Germany, or in this country, it is facing an entirely different situation. Germany has faced many crises since the disastrous Treaty of Versailles. Somehow, it has passed them all without going to pieces. We look for an equal triumph over Hitlerism, which for a time appeared to be so significant, but is now in the process of deflation.

SENATOR DAVIS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, one-time Secretary of Labor during three administrations, and familiarly known as "Puddler Jim," seems to have struck a snag. As one of the leaders of the Loyal Order of Moose he has been indicted by the Federal authorities for running a lottery. This lottery is of the kind that is run by many fraternal, benevolent and religious organizations to build up needy treasuries.

We have never thought it was wise to raise money in these ways. The practice has been winked at by the authorities, and we cannot now understand why the Federal authorities have become alive to it. We are certain that there is nothing political about it. Evidently, there was danger that the mails were being used too extensively for the carrying on of these lotteries. Lotteries, not very dangerous in themselves, may become the occasion for the revival of schemes which would defraud many innocent people of their money.

We notice the announcement that if Senator Davis is convicted, Gov. Pinchot will ask for his withdrawal from the Senate. This is the Governor's right, and it may be his duty. The people of a State have a right to expect that those who represent them in high offices shall be subject to the laws. If our lawmakers violate laws, what can we expect from bootleggers and racketeers? We have no desire to convict Senator Davis before his case is dealt with in the courts but it behooves every public official to be careful how he lends his name to any scheme. If the indictment of Senator Davis, and others equally well known, will make officials careful about their reputations, something will be gained.

THE AFTERMATH OF THE FARMERS' STRIKE

A sheriff in one of the counties in Iowa where the farmers' strike has been going on, reports that a number of farmers opposed to the strike have been urging him to use the powers of his office to open the roads leading to markets. Devoted to the ideal of a "rugged individualism," they ask for the inalienable right to do business when, and where, and with whom they want to. Since the sheriff is elected by the people of the county, and most of the people are sympathetic with the strikers, he naturally hesitates to do anything. So the strike goes on.

The aftermath will be a mass of feuds in Iowa which will make life miserable for many thousands probably for the next generation. Unlike factory workers, farmers will be compelled to live together in the same community. The divisions engendered by the strike will rankle for many years to come. They who are familiar with the history of feuds know how they enter into every phase of community life,—into the church, the social life, and the political life. These feuds carry on from parents to children with increasing bitterness. No wonder that the thoughtful people of Iowa and the Northwest are anxious about this new kind of strike. It is a case where there is no dominating element like employers' organizations. Each farmer is an independent economic factor; and when the farmers begin to have their differences, it is going to cut much deeper than when workers divide.

"REPEAL" SIGNS ON AUTOS

A friend has been much disturbed by the number of "Repeal" signs which have recently been attached to automobiles. So numerous have they apparently become, that he takes it to be a trend in the direction of repeal. These "repeal" signs appear on Ford Model T's and on Cadillacs. There seems to be no distinction of class. Many drivers who display them might pass for Sunday school teachers. And, naturally, there are many who wonder what it means.

Just as a matter of curiosity, an observer watched a procession of cars from a great function at which more than a thousand cars were present. It was a miscellaneous group of people, representing every strata of society. He counted some six hundred cars passing in succession, and the number of repeal signs displayed numbered five. Five out of six hundred is a very small percentage indeed.

No doubt, these display signs are good propaganda for the "wets." That is evident from the disturbed mind of the friend. But as one swallow does not make a summer, neither do five signs out of six hundred indicate a trend. We do not deny that there is an aggressive movement on for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment; but no one should be panicky on the matter because five out of six hundred automobile owners tagged their cars with their repeal sentiments.

T. R. WILL NOT COME HOME

The protest of the people of the Philippines against Governor-General Roosevelt returning to this country to engage in a stumping tour has had its effect. An executive order sent through the State Department told young Teddy to stay on the job. So, we shall have no Roosevelt vs. Roosevelt in this campaign.

Perhaps it is well that it should be so. But for Mr. Roosevelt it must be a sore disappointment. He has engaged in about every political campaign since he came of age. He has not been very successful in obtaining an elective office; but he has had some very good official appointments. It would undoubtedly keep his name before the country could he engage in the campaign. There is little opportunity for keeping his name before the people way off there in the Philippines.

We sympathize with Teddy in what must be a great disappointment. Every year older he grows lessens his chances for political recognition by the people. At his age his noted father had already conquered the imagination of the whole country.

Half Soles, Banana Flavor

Christian Science Monitor

Although banana peels are noted largely for their facility in tripping the unwary, they are now said to be included in a commodity which has great prospects in the industrial world. "Those who have been wont delicately to place thumb and forefinger at a banana's extremity and nonchalantly strip the fruit from its non-resisting integument may yet find this lowly rind something more than merely nature's wrapping of a delicate morsel. While its new use presents the somewhat ambiguous proposition of taking something from underfoot and placing it underfoot, there is little or no relation between the two operations. For it is a form of tough fiber, suitable for the soles of shoes and other articles now made of leather, that is to emerge from banana waste under a new process announced by news dispatches from the Island of Jamaica.

Although "banana soles" may not come speedily into popular use, and though such may be the transformation that one may not readily recognize the "peel" the removal of its sphere from one of sidewalk lubrication to that of a solely constructive nature is praiseworthy. Meanwhile it may not be forgotten that things of a stranger character than banana peels have entered into the soles of shoes. Aside from rubber and various compositions, it has been alleged by careless speakers that even paper has been disguised as leather and used for the soles of shoes. With the advent of the banana as an ingredient of the future shoe, we may look forward to the time when the leather industry will aid the farmer by absorbing the overproduction of string beans, turnips and such other vegetables as may contain some element of sufficient toughness suitable for soles.

Still Plenty of Room Ahead

New York Times

Scores of thousands of passengers on the I. R. T., reading that the company had gone into receivership, must have looked up if they had a seat, or around them if they stood up, and tried to discover signs of the change. They failed to find them. The crowd was the same, and so were the lights and the electric fans. The spaghetti in the ads was just as nourishing, the semi-starved collars were just as neat and job-producing, the icee desserts just as refreshing. The train ran just as fast, took the same as it has always done, and traveled, as it always does, with the three forward cars empty and all the other cars congested. For the traveler there was not the slightest indication that he was now being carried through space by the Federal courts instead of by the Interborough Rapid Transit.

The Reprieve!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

IN THE MELTING POT

Although we often think we think
And know a great deal more
Than did the fugal Missing Link,
Our wild progenitor,
Although our actions we may view
With happy self-content,
Whatever we have done is due
To our environment.
For rich or poor, or high and low,
And dull of wit, or keen,
We're creatures of the radio
And products of the screen.

These agencies by night and day
Throughout the changing years
A role of high importance play
In shaping our careers.
By methods which are manifold
Invisibly they reach
Our groping entities to mould.
Our manners, thought and speech.
And if we are like potted peas
We need to take no shame,
Nor make extenuating pleas
For THEY'RE alone to blame.

To East, to West, to South, to North,
To form a common mind,
The radio goes daily forth—
The screen not far behind—
And soon the flickering of the reel,
The message of the mike,
Will make all sons of Adam feel,
And talk, and think alike.
While we, like puppets in a show,
Will trot around the scene,
Just products of the radio
And creatures of the screen.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

MAHAYANA AND HINAYANA

Orthodox Buddhism is made up of two quite distinct religions. They are:

(1) Mahayana which means literally the "great vehicle" or the "great path."

(2) Hinayana which means literally the "lesser vehicle" or the "lesser path."

These two religions that comprise Buddhism recognize the fact upon which Ortega y Gasset's volume on The Revolt of the Masses, to which I referred yesterday, is based, namely that humanity is divided into two types:

1) Those who make great demands on themselves.

2) Those who demand nothing special of themselves.

Mahayana is thus a more "rigorous" and more "difficult" religion.

Hinayana is thus a more "easy" and more "trivial" religion.

Life is made or marred for a man or for a civilization by the demands a man makes upon himself or the demands a civilization makes upon itself.

When we make a minimum of demands on ourselves we become part of the masses.

When we make a maximum of demands on ourselves we become selectmen.

When Ortega y Gasset divides humanity into the "social masses" and the "select minorities," he does not set up artificial social classes which have been the poleon of civilization.

He simply says that some men hitch their lives to the "great vehicle" and follow the "great path" while some hitch their lives to the "lesser vehicle" and follow the "lesser path."

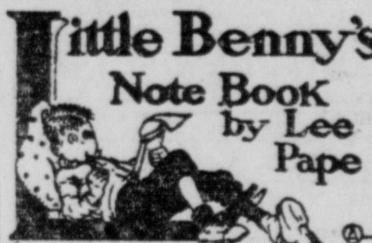

And no candid observer can deny his conclusion that society today the world around is dominated by men who have hitched their lives to the "lesser vehicle" and are following the "lesser path."

I have repeatedly argued in these articles that the American future cannot be guaranteed by a few slick tricks of economic manipulation, but that we need something akin to a vast religious awakening that will give new dignity and new valuation to our lives, prompting us to give up our pseudo-democratic worship of the average and the common and to bow before the altar of excellence, again acknowledging that some are gifted of God for leadership and some by nature born for fellowship.

Modern society is dying under the false doctrine that says, as some wag put it, "every man is as good as every other man and a little better."

Ortega y Gasset's Revolt of the Masses is an invigorating tonic that a tired world needs now to take.

Pop was looking at the paper while we was eating breakfast, and he slapped it down on the table mad, saying, 'They're a pack of pussyfooted chicken livers, the whole crew of them.'

Who, my goodness? ma said, and pop said, 'Our noble aggregation of councilmen, that's who, and I repeat my accusation, they are a pack of chicken livered pussyfooters.'

You said they was a pack of pussyfooted chicken livers, pop, I said, and he said, 'I know I did, but they're getting worse every minnit. They don't know their own minds for more than 10 minnits at a stretch, they'll jump at the crack of anybody's whip like the pack of sheep that they are, he said.'

Can a pack of sheep have chicken livers, pop? I said, and pop said, 'They can and they have. What they don't have is determination and will power. That's what the whole world lacks today, determination and will power, the ability to say a thing and then do it. This of all periods is no time for vacillation, for continual looking and no leaping, this is a time for resolute action, by golly, he said.'

And he started to pore himself some more rawfies, saying, 'Backbone, that's what's needed, and by golly I want to tell you one thing:'

My lands Willyum, you're on your 2nd cup of coffee again after all your glorious resolutions and inspiring speeches about the bad effects that too much coffee has on you, ma said, and pop said, 'Maybe so, but is that any reason for interrupting me in the middle of a sentence to change the subject?'

I didn't change any subject, hee hee, I'm still talking about will power, ma said, and pop said, 'Your college of politicks could be put on the head of a pin by a one armed mosquito.'

And he quick drank the rest of his 2nd cup and went down to the office.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today

From The Register Files

SEPTEMBER 7, 1918

Supervisor Jasper Leck of Tustin has received the consent of the Board of Supervisors for the placing of three pieces of paved road in the Fifth district. One piece of paving will be the continuation of paving done on the San Juan Hot Springs road out of San Juan Capistrano and two pieces of paving will be done at Laguna Beach.

Forty-five members of the Efficiency Club of the Southern California Gas company assembled Wednesday evening at the local office to attend a banquet honoring Sidney Allender, who just returned to this city from Cape May, N. J. on a 2 day furlough.

C. W. Morris has purchased a four and a half acre tract at Yorba Linda and has announced his intention of dividing it into residence lots. The new subdivision to Yorba Linda lies south of the boulevard and west of Lake View avenue.

LIGHTEN THE LOAD

There is really nothing sacred about the length of the school day. Experience has taught us that most children can profit by a five hour day in school. It took us some centuries to understand that the school day need not be the same length for all children. It was with fear and trembling that we cut the kindergarten's day in half, and with deeper trepidation, the first year children's day to four hours. Nothing happened. The children, did as much work, and better work than when they were held in school all day.

We teach children in groups in schools for economy's sake. If we could manage to teach them all one by one at the hour in the day when each child could do his best work, that would be ideal. That being out of the question, we do the best we can in a routine school day. But it is not essential that every child have the same hours, the same number of hours, or the same course.

Every once in a while the teacher finds a child who is not paying attention. He frowns, he fidgets, he misses his lessons, he loses his place in reading, he doesn't know the question the teacher asked, he drops behind steadily. The teacher sends home a bad report. The mother is angry and scolds the "dumb" child. He tries for a day or two and falls back into his old ways. The note goes home again and the program repeats itself for the whole term when the child is left back in humiliation and grief.

Whenever a child fails in school, have the doctor look over him. Have a specialist test his school work. Not the teacher, but a stranger. Then arrange a program that will lighten his burden. It is clear he cannot carry on as things are. Then why not change things to help him? And let the first thing you do for him be shortening his school day.

That will seem the last thing to do. Take a failing child out of class? But he needs every minute of school. He gets nothing when he is there all day. How can he get anything if he is absent?

I know by experience that certain children will do better work, more work, keep up with their classes and be promoted, by following a program set by the teacher in co-operation with the specialist and the physician, during a shortened school day. Just how much time he is to cut must depend upon the nature and condition of the child. It is easy enough to decide that, once you accept the idea that it is right to do so.

The free time is to be used to establish the child's health. It is to be spent in rest, recreation, special lessons that free the child of tension such as music, dancing, gardening, some hobby. Often we find that by giving the child a chance to work a couple of hours on something he likes to do that he is better able to take school work for the rest of the time. Whatever makes him happier makes him stronger, and whatever makes him stronger helps him through school.

Don't be afraid to shorten his school day. He can make good use of the time. Lighten his load and he will go over the top in a way that astonishes you.

GERMANS THROW IN RESERVES

On Sept. 7, 1918, allied forces continued their advance on a 50-mile front in northern France. In places, their net gain was as much as five miles, although the total ground retaken during the day's fight did not match that recovered during the previous day.

German resistance stiffened noticeably as the tired troops reached the positions from which their great offensives of March and May had been launched.

Fresh German forces, numbering nearly 250,000, had been in reserve on the Hindenburg line, and the presence of these soldiers lent a new intensity to the fighting.

One of a squadron of German warships cruising off the island of Ameland ran into a mine and sank.

British airplanes bombed the German munition and chemical plant at Mannheim.
